U. S. MARINE CORPS AIR STATION, KANEOHE BAY, T. H.

Friday, March 14, 1958

MASS OF EQUIPMENT, soon to filter through the yawning mouth of the waiting USS Outagamie (LST 1073), stacks up on the Air Station's bay shore Wednesday. Ownership of the equipment is divided among MABS-13, HMR-161, and MAG-13 and will be utilized in support of the 1st Marine Brigade's helicopter squadron during amphibious exercises to be conducted at Kauai. Base camp personnel will consist of about 50 members from MABS-13 and a detachment from "E" Co., 3rd Medical Bn.—PHOTO BY SGT. TOM WHITTINGHAM.

BATTALION PHIBEX AT BARKING SANDS SLATED MARCH 19

Over 1,000 infantrymen of the 1st Bn., 4th Marines, with attached supporting troops, are scheduled to attack Kauai's Barking Sands beach early next Wednesday in a two-pronged air-ground training assault. This is the first of a series of three Garden Isle landings planned during the latter half of March for elements of the 1st Marine Brigade, Fleet Marine Force, Pacific.

The 1st Bn., 4th, commanded by Lt. Col. E. L. Medford Jr., will begin loading aboard vessels of Amphibious Squadron Three on Monday, St. Patrick's Day. About half of the assault force will load aboard four LST's and one LSD here at K-Bay while the remainder load aboard an APA at Pearl Harbor.

Tuesday, helicopters of HMR-161 will depart for Bonham Auxiliary Landing Field and about 30 members of the Brigade's reconnaissance platoon will board the submarine Sabalo at Pearl Harbor. The previously embarked amphibious force will be conducting a rehearsal landing that day.

In the dark hours before dawn Wednesday, the "recon" platoon is scheduled to slip ashore to gather information on positions established Tuesday by portions of "I" Co., 3rd Bn., 4th Marines, acting as "Aggressors" for the exercise.

Helicopter-borne troops of "D" Co. jumping off from the LST's (simulated carriers) as the first prong of the attack, will launch the assault against Bonham field about 7 a.m. Wednesday morning. Simultaneously another heli-lift will drop one platoon of "G" Btry., 3rd Bn., 12th Marines, with 42 inch mortars some distance south of the field.

Meanwhile, the second prong, troop loaded LVT's and LCM's, will erupt from the vessels of PhibRon Three, smash through the heavy Barking Sands surf and spew the assaulting Leathernecks ashore.

Once ashore, "A" Co. will swing north to link-up with "D" Co. at See KAUAI PHIBEX P-4

1958 CORPS COMPETITION-IN-ARMS PROGRAM REPORTS THREE MAJOR PROCEDURE CHANGES

WASHINGTON, D.C.—Three major changes in procedure highlight the Marine Corps Competition-in-Arms program for 1958 as announced last week by Headquarters Marine Corps.

The program sets its sights on duplicating the Marines' 1956 feat of winning all five National Trophy Matches at Camp Perry, Ohio. Last year the Leathernecks retained only one of these.

The changes are: (1) Five Regimental teams will represent each division, whereas formerly a division was represented by several division teams; (2) Staff non-commissioned officers as well as commissioned officers will act as officials on the line and in the butts; (3) Official score will be marked on the line rather than in the butts.

More equitable competition, added prestige and responsibility for Staff NCO's and personnel economies are the principal reasons for the 1958 changes.

Otherwise, the program differs little from that of a year ago. It will begin with the Eastern, Western and Pacific Division competitions, then evolve into the All-Marine and National matches.

The Eastern Division Rifle and Pistol Matches are scheduled for May 5-8 at Camp Lejeune, N. C. The Elliott, Wirgman and Edson Trophy Matches will follow there May 9-11.

Rifle teams from large (more than 600 personnel) Eastern Division units will compete for the Elliott Trophy, while those from smaller units will fire in the Wirgman Trophy Match. The Edson Trophy Match is for Eastern pistol teams only.

Camp Matthews, San Diego will again host the Western Division Rifle and Pistol Matches to be fired this year May 12-15. The San Diego, Whorton and Holcomb Trophy Matches will be conducted there May 16-17.

Then San Diego and Whorton Trophy Matches are for Western See ARMS COMPETITION P-5

Staff NCO Wives Briefed on MCAS At Kansas Tower

Members of the K-Bay Staff NCO Wives' club received a bird's eye view of the Kaneohe Bay Marine Corps Air Station together with an explanation of facilities from high atop Kansas Tower last Friday. The visit to the tower by the wives was at the invitation of Col. Jack R. Cram, MCAS commanding officer.

In addition to enjoying the breathtaking view from the tower, club members described the briefing given them as "very informative and interesting." Col. Cram conducted the briefing with members of his staff.

Every phase of the Station's facilities was explained by the staff with open discussion invited.

According to the NCO Wives club columnist, "All of the NCO Wives have expressed their tremendous appreciation for the efforts made to extend them this courtesy."

STAFF BELLE BRIEFING—Capt. Richard T. Bourbeau, MCAS Exchange officer, points out what the improved MX gasoline station will look like after construction is completed to K-Bay Staff NCO wives attending a Marine Corps Air Station briefing at Kansas Tower last Friday. Col. J. R. Cram, Station commanding officer, stated that the briefing fulfilled a two-fold purpose "since it was like a clinic or informal discussion in which the wives aired their problems and we explained the functions of the base and its facilities."

Chaplain's Corner

By CHAPLAIN CARL A. AUDEL
 ENDOWED BY THEIR CREATOR

Without making any actual laws regarding the establishment of religion or its practices, certain fundamental religious facts are recognized in the Declaration of Independence, in our Constitution, and in the Bill of Rights. Some of these significant beliefs, upon which our government and our way of life is founded, are that men did not "just happen" in one grand accident. Rather our government is based on the supposition that there exists a Creator and that men are the created. It is further based on the thought, the firm belief, that people are created with certain inalienable rights. These rights, which men do not condescendingly give to other men out of a generous spirit, belong to every human being because the Creator gave them.

In a very real sense then, our Constitution does not proclaim itself the originator of freedom, but the guarantor and protector of that freedom given each man by God.

Many people do not particularly like this. In every age of history men have set themselves up as the declarers of who shall and who shall not be truly free. Our age is not different. There are those, seemingly dedicated to the task of playing at being God. They like to designate who shall and shall not be allowed to possess and practice these inalienable rights and freedoms. A significant question is, "Do I?"

by bradley

The storm that hit Oahu last week and broke a 40-year record for rainfall pretty well occupied the news for a few days. From what I read, the Marine Corps Air Station fared as well or better than average. Some sections of this island really had problems next to which ours were minor.

We certainly had our share of flooded streets but there was always an alternate route that a car could ease through. From our standpoint I think the big news concerned others.

There was the Navy pilot, for instance, who found safe haven here after he was lost high in the soup over the island. While a definite team effort was responsible for bringing him in, I gather that TSgt. Bose L. Martin in the airfield operations control tower probably rates the biggest chunk of credit.

Sensing that time was running out and that the pilot would never make Barber's Point in time, TSgt. Martin cut in on the pilot's confab with GCA at the Point. Purely on his own initiative Martin told the pilot to change to guard frequency and put himself in K-Bay's hands. Martin then alerted MACS-2.

After TSgt. Martin had set up the play, it was necessary for others to run with the ball. Principal agent at this point was MACS-2, MAG-13. GCA was not operating. But MACS-2 radar was turned on. Though the air control squadron does not normally handle ground controlled approaches, there was no time to belabor the point.

Shortly after the pilot had been told that K-Bay would bring him in, 1st Lt. A. W. Phillipott of MACS-2 had the aircraft on his scope. From there on it was a case of "do your best." Apparently his best was good enough. The pilot brought his F8U Crusader in for a safe landing.

Although the pilot knew he was nearly out of fuel and that he would probably have one crack only at the field, how close he came to not getting even one try was revealed later when it was discovered he had only 20 gallons of fuel remaining. I suspect that's just about enough to take a Crusader from the runway to the ocean beyond.

No wonder that Navy Pilot was so happy when I saw him about 30 minutes after his harrowing experience.

Monday is the day for "wearing o' the green," St. Patrick's Day. It recalls to mind a favorite recruiting "gimmick" that was widely used a number of years ago.

Marines on recruiting duty who normally wore blues all year would break out in green uniform on Paddy's Day. With proper advance publicity which was a "natural," every Marine in a recruiting division would be wearing green on that one day a year.

I'm not certain who dreamed up the idea but I think it started in the old Southeastern Division in Atlanta. From there it spread to Northeastern and I believe it finally became a nationwide effort. At any rate, it was very effective.

I remember back in 1949 or '50 a TSgt. by name of Shannon L. Meaney grabbed one of his inspirations out of thin air and produced a deathless bit of prose suitable to the occasion. It tied in a mythical and cleverly written bit of Irish Marine Corps history with St. Patrick's Day as a means of explaining the shift to greens, and as a means of publicizing the effort.

This little gem was printed word-for-word in newspapers throughout many states and was even reprinted in succeeding years. One of my regrets is that I did not keep a copy of it.

After he left Northeastern Recruiting Division to join the fray in Korea as a Combat Correspondent, TSgt. Meaney was killed while covering the fight from Chosin.

The other night the wife and I were sitting in our living room on the beach at Waimanalo watching a full moon slowly ascend majestically over Rabbit Island. It was a beautiful sight and one that I imagine virtually everyone has pictured in his mind at one time or another—after seeing a movie with a South Seas setting.

Now that our tour here is drawing to a close, we reflected on how fortunate we have been to have had this opportunity. And we also reflected on how much we're going to miss Hawaii.

Again Sunday while sitting under a palm tree in the front yard, I drank in the beauty all around me and the comfort of the Hawaiian climate. Without turning my head I could let my gaze wander across the beach and out to sea to the islands of Molokai and Maui and the horizon encircling them. Or to the mountains ringing the beach and homes and farmland of Waimanalo. Jutting sharp and rugged into the sky without their usual mantle of cloud, their fluted ridges caught the rays of the sun, creating green ripples along the dark face of the solid wall.

We're going to miss it. Maybe we'll have to return after "20."

The All-Marine Basketball Championship games have been playing to standing room only crowds. This is great and the way it was expected attendance would be.

I wonder, however, how many Marines who have seen the gym during earlier season games realize the amount of work that has gone into the decorations for this first All-Marine play-off to be held outside the continental U. S. With the stands full and a game underway, the gym takes on all of the air of top-notch sports competition. But I, for one, think the trimmings help considerably to camouflage the fact that the gym is in a hangar and add their share of atmosphere.

The credit goes to 1st Sgt. Dan Houghtaling and his Special Services men. They've spent many anxious hours in Hangar 103 waiting for the floor to lie back down after it got wet in last week's downpour—and in planning and placing the trimmings.

It's just amazing what some crepe paper and plants and guidons can do. I'd say it was a fine job.

Editor's Corner

New horizons will come into view for career servicemen if Congress votes to revise military pay along the lines the Department of Defense has proposed.

The Defense Department's proposals, besides giving raises in pay to seven of every 10 servicemen, would bring into sight unprecedented objectives for every enlisted man, be he technician or cook, squad leader or yeoman.

The proposals would create the possibility for some outstanding enlisted men to receive increases of more than $100 a month as early as the middle of next year.

For men who have already reached their maximum pay, the proposals would open up the chance to climb to pay as high as $440 a month, more than $100 higher than the present top pay. Two new pay grades, E-8 and E-9, would provide new peaks in benefits for persons in top supervisory positions who merit maximum prestige and pay.

Further, the proposals would put a stop to the obvious injustice of the situation today where thousands of enlisted men in lower ranks, and with lower responsibilities, receive more pay than persons in higher grades with higher responsibilities. The remedy would be a step-in-grade system—a fixed rate of pay or entry to a higher grade, plus merit increases to cover the period in-grade when it is reasonable to expect increases in effectiveness.

A promotion would carry with it assurance of a substantial raise in pay. The improvements would reflect the improvement our Armed Forces need to meet the demands of modern military methods.

Quality has become the watchword. Career servicemen must take on increased responsibilities. Skilled technicians must be kept in uniform. The Department of Defense wants to see that they are adequately rewarded.—(AFPS)

F CO., 2nd BN. SETS TOP '57 RE-UP MARK

"Foxrot" Company, 2nd Bn., 4th Marines, leads all 1st Marine Brigade units in the "career Marine" program with an astonishing 213 per cent reenlistment average for calendar year 1957.

1st Sgt. Samuel E. Estes, company top sergeant and sergeant major selectee, is credited with being responsible for the unit quadrupling the Brigade goal of 44 per cent. The FMFPac-CMC goal is 40 per cent of eligible persons for reenlistments.

Through Estes' efforts, more than one rifle platoon of men reenlisted at the expiration of their enlistments and an additional six men "shipped" early for a total of 51 during last year.

The company placed its bid in retaining the top position in the Brigade's career service project when 19 men reenlisted during the first two months of '58.

First Sgt. Estes gives credit to his company NCO's for their command presence as well as a direct career appraisal approach which informs Leathernecks slated for release about the advantages of military life and the current civilian outlook in jobs, education.

The first sergeant is a veteran of over 17 years in the Corps. Estes, a former Army Cavalryman in the '30's saw action with the 4th Marine Division at Saipan-Tinian and later in Korea with the 1st Marine Division.

Keep Valuables Safe, Advice Given by PMO

The Provost Marshal's office announced this week that the best way to keep money and valuables intact is to lock them in the bottom drawer of the wall locker.

Tracking down the loss of currency is a difficult task unless the serial number of the bill or bills missing is available.

For example, if a man loses $20, a shakedown may be held, but the chances of recovering the money is quite limited. Anyone may have a bill of the same denomination.

A few DON'TS: Don't leave trousers hanging in the squadbay with wallets or other valuables in the pockets. Don't leave articles of value on the top shelf of wall lockers, even if the locker is locked; and definitely don't leave anything under pillows.

Take the investigators advice and there will be no need to call them or be subjected to undue hardships due to losses.

Service Families Benefit

FAIR RENTAL PROPOSAL IS SIGNED BY PRESIDENT

WASHINGTON—Service families living in government housing found to be inadequate will be charged a fair rental value and will be paid the difference between this value and their quarters allowance. Such payment, according to the Defense Department, will be retroactive to Jan. 1, 1958.

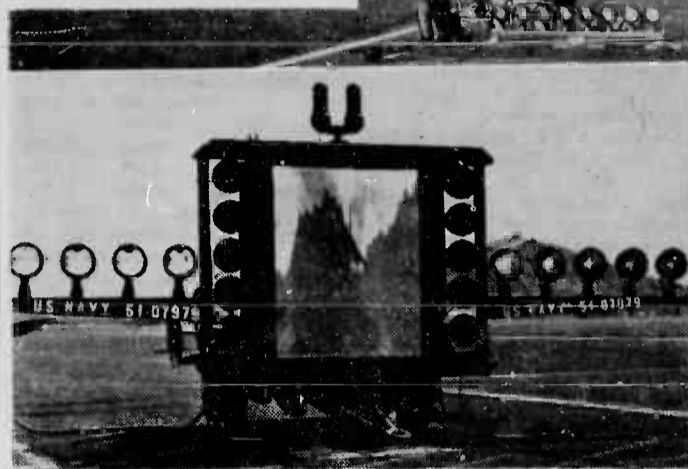

A DOD directive establishing the conditions and standards by which military housing will be judged adequate or inadequate has been approved by President Eisenhower as Government housing which will probably be affected locally are 15 units (quonsets) along Lawrence rd. and four units near Ulupau Head. Upon arrival of the directive which determines the standard for fair rental quarters, a few other units at K-Bay will be considered.

RED CROSS FUND DRIVE BEGINS IN 1st MARBRIG AND STATION

The campaign to raise funds for the American National Red Cross got underway Monday in the 1st Marine Brigade and the Marine Corps Air Station with endorsements from top military commanders. In a meeting last Friday morning in the Station theater, Mr. John F. Rolfs, manager of the Hawaii Red Cross Chapter, addressed Brigade and Station unit chairmen and keymen, explaining the local chapter participation in work with the various services and the local community.

At the same time, unit officials were briefed on the conduct of the drive. The Red Cross Fund Drive will continue until April 5.

"For many years the services have received much more from the Red Cross than has been contributed by service members, and yet the support continues uninterrupted," said Adm. Felix B. Stump, CinCPac, in a message to his command. Adm. Stump stated that "we have an opportunity to express our appreciation" and "to assist in its continued support by contributing to the present fund campaign."

Lt. Gen. Vernon E. Megee, CG, FMFPac, pointed out that the Marines have traditionally supported the Red Cross and in turn the American Red Cross has supported the Marines, individually and collectively. "Through our collective personal efforts and our individual monetary contributions we Marines will continue to support the Red Cross program."

From January through December 1957, the K-Bay Red Cross Chapter handled 2,947 new cases. Of this, 702 were for emergency leave, 102 for discharge and 68 for government benefits. Health-welfare reports were given in 815 cases and 1,260 counselling cases were handled.

Financial assistance at K-Bay amounted to $9,463 for family assistance and personal needs and $33,855 for emergency leave transportation (mostly at Travis Air Force Base) and maintenance. Total financial assistance given K-Bay personnel amounted to $43,318.

Merit. Mast Awarded 4th Marines Corporal

Alertness and attention to duty won Cpl. Richard D. Kurtz, "A" Co., 1st Bn., 4th Marines, a meritorious mast last Friday from his regimental commander, Col. George A. Roll.

As a result of his "alertness and attentiveness to duty," the percentage of unit diary errors for Co. "A" during calendar year 1957 was 00.10.

While performing company clerical duties, Kurtz performed all assigned tasks in a highly commendable manner, stated his company commander.

His letter of citation read in part "... you have been, to all your associates, an outstanding example of leadership and professional proficiency."

Col. Roll added that Kurtz's "enthusiastic and selfless devotion to duty is consonant with the highest traditions of the Naval Service."

Special Serv. Boats Offered for Sale

Navy Crusader Jets From USS Hancock Practice 'Bounce' Landings at K-Bay

By SGT. JIM WOOTEN

Sleek new supersonic jets from the USS Hancock filled local skies this week with "unusual" sound as members of Navy Fighter Squadron-154 made field carrier landing practice (FCLP) runs on K-Bay's main runway.

Utilizing the unique mirror landing system, pilots of the powerful Chance Vought F8U Crusaders simulated carrier landings as they circled, approached the runway, bounced on the asphalt, and then streaked skyward for repeat performances.

During the first two days, fourteen VF-154 pilots racked up 22 hours in six Crusaders on 21 sorties, starting last Friday afternoon. Around 5:30 p.m. Saturday when the last heavy jet bounced off the black top for the return trip to Barber's Point, a total of 150 FCLP passes had been completed.

In actual carrier operations a landing signal officer (LSO) is seldom used since the innovation of the mirror system. However, a LSO is used with FCLP runs as a safety measure. A talk-down procedure is given to familiarize pilots with the correct or ideal approach in aligning planes with the simulated carrier deck.

"Paddles" (the LSO) also warns the approaching jet of other aircraft entering the traffic pattern when he receives word from the control tower, which monitors all airfield operations.

The "unusual sounds" occurred whenever Crusader pilots "kicked in" supercharged afterburners for additional thrust on climbs, pullouts, and other tactical altitude maneuvers.

Measures have been adopted by station airfield operations and pilots to lessen the intensity or curb the zone of jet noise as much as possible. Pilots have been directed not to cut afterburners on until clearing the main runway's ocean boundary as a means to reduce the heavy jet's "roar."

Also, a wide turning arc, required to align the Crusader with the duty runway, has temporarily extended the noise zone. The actual blast's intensity is not appreciably louder than usual since afterburners are not normally necessary for landings.

All jet aircraft normally stay in the regular traffic pattern on the seaward side of the station, except planes towing targets must pass between Kailua and the main gate in order to enter the air traffic pattern without creating flight hazards to other aircraft.

VMF-154 is slated to wrap up local operations on Oahu today and depart for tactical maneuvers in the Far East Monday aboard the Hancock. Commanded by Navy Cdr. F. X. "Tango" Timmes, the squadron is the Navy's only Pacific area flight command equipped with carrier-planes that are capable of reaching twice the speed of sound.

Six 'Red Devil' Pilots to Mainland For All Navy Air Weapons Meet

Four "Red Devil" pilots of VMA-232, MAG-13, will represent Air-FMFPac in the air-fighter phase of competition in the 1958 All-Navy Air Weapons Meet on the Mainland next month. The El Centro, Calif. Naval Auxiliary Air Station will host the visiting airmen.

Led by Lt. Col. Jay Hubbard, VMF-232 commanding officer, team members Capt. Walt Hutchins, Dick Tomlinson, and 2nd Lt. Len Llewellyn bested squadron pilots in local gunnery elimination contests to earn their trip to the Mainland.

Former Navy "Blue Angel" Leatherneck solo performer, Capt. Chuck Hiatt, and Red Devil wingman 1st Lt. Joe Rosenthal will be alternates for the MAG team. Twenty VMF-232 mechanics and technicians will provide logistical and maintenance support during the stateside meet.

The "Red Devil" flight will compete against more than 25 Marine and Navy teams in the event. In the jet aircraft divisions, five flights each will vie for the coveted All-Navy-Marine day fighter championship; four in the all-weather fighter competition; and four for the air-ground delivery title.

Navy squadrons from each fleet will compete for the propeller-plane attack crown.

This year's meet will feature for the first time, use of air-to-air rockets in gunnery competition. All weather fighters will conduct their firing through radar with the pilot never visually sighting the target.

The Navy's famed precision demonstration team the "Blue Angels," is slated for appearances on the meet's last day.

TRADITIONAL lei of aloha is held on the nose of an old warrior Monday by Lt. Col. John R. Bolt, VMA-214 commanding officer, prior to the F2H-4 Banshee's last tactical flight. The act signified aloha to the rugged Banshees from members of the "Black Sheep" squadron. The all-weather, radar-equipped twin jet fighter bombers have been replaced by 20 FJ4 Furies which arrived Wednesday at Ford Island from MAG-11 in Atsugi, Japan. All Banshees in VMA-214 have logged over 1,000 hours each. Number 6 above, had the record with 1,493 hours and has served with both the Navy and Marines, virtually around the world. At a later date the FJ4 will be replaced by FJ4-B's.

UH Registration, Book Sale Slated Monday, Tuesday

Registration and the sale of books for University of Hawaii courses to be offered at the Kaneohe Center will be held Monday and Tuesday, March 17 and 18, the Station Education office announced this week.

Registration will be conducted from 12:30 to 3:30 p.m. both days. Books will be on sale from 7:30 to 11:30 a.m. and 12:30 to 3:30 p.m. each day.

The Station Education office is located topside in Bldg. 221.

Personnel who do not have tuition assistance forms completed by registration will be required to pay the full amount. However, they will be reimbursed by the University of Hawaii when the form is completed.

Tuition forms must be submitted prior to March 25, 1958.

Persons who register after March 19 must pay a late registration fee of $5.

According to University of Hawaii requirements, each class must contain no less than 25 persons or else it will not convene. At press time Wednesday, there were indications that not all seven courses planned at K-Bay would convene due to a lack of students.

STAFF NCO'S TO GET NEW BANK PLAN

The streamlined paycheck deposit plan, recently offered to officers, has been extended to staff non-commissioned officers maintaining accounts at the MCAS Branch of the Bank of Hawaii, the disbursing officer announced this week.

The new system will go into effect April 1.

Under the new system the pay usually received in pay line will go directly to the bank at 8 a.m. on payday morning, thereby reducing the line at payroll and also eliminating a certain amount of congestion at the bank.

Staff NCO's may obtain limited power of attorney forms at the Station Disbursing Office to put the plan into effect.

Kauai PHIBEX

the airstrip while "C" Co. turns south to protect the right flank of the assaulting forces. "B" Co., held as a floating reserve, will land as the situation demands or later in the day.

Maneuvers ashore now will be confined to the limited beach area due to the dryness of the sugar canefields and the resulting fire hazard. Use of pyrotechnics will be severely curtailed although blank ammunition will be used. No attempt to maneuver to the high-ground, either by helicopter or overland, will be made.

Close air support will be provided by fixed wing aircraft of Marine Aircraft Group-13 operating from MCAS, Kaneohe.

Primary emphasis for the 1st Bn. landing will be concentrated in logistic problems including use of large amounts of dummy cargo. Casualty evacuations and resupply by helicopter and LVT are also planned.

After spending the night ashore, troops are scheduled to begin re-loading Thursday morning and are expected to return to Kaneohe sometime next Friday.

During the operation a small base camp will be operated by MABS-13 at Bonham field to support the helicopter squadron and to provide other essential services. Base camp personnel, who left Kaneohe Wednesday, are expected to remain at Kauai until the completion of the series of landings in early April.

The next landing is scheduled to be made by the 2nd Bn., 4th Marines, on March 26. The 3rd Bn., 4th, will make the final assault on April 2.

Retirement Statistics Reveal Need For Greater Enlisted Pay Incentive

WASHINGTON—The retired rolls of the Armed Forces give convincing evidence that enlisted service needs added career incentive. Retirement pay generally has been considered one of the prime inducements to follow military life in both commissioned and enlisted ranks. However, retired rosters reveal wide difference in the proportion of officers and enlisted personnel attaining this goal, according to military personnel officials.

A breakdown of current rolls, including the permanent and temporary disabled who represent roughly 40 per cent of the totals, tabulated to the nearest round figure only for the purpose of comparison, by service is:

	Officer	Enlisted
Army	58,000	52,000
Navy	30,000	58,000
Marine Corps	4,000	10,000
Air Force	14,000	17,000

Considering that the officer-enlisted ratio Armed Forces wide has been approximately one to 10 since WWII, these numbers disclose that comparatively few enlisted men remain in the ranks to 20 or 30 year retirement. While actual averages would require involved mathematical deductions, these figures couldn't have been much higher at any time in the past.

They also indicate that there need be little national concern for mounting costs of military retirement but rather for the obligations the government assumes to men going out of the services in the status of veterans.

Further statistical proof of this is an analysis published in 1954 by the Kaplan Committee, a Defense Department retirement study panel. Based on "survival factors" for regulars entering military service, analysis showed that:

Of commissioned officers, six per cent die, 12 per cent are disabled (four per cent temporarily—eight per cent permanently), 29 per cent are selected out, two per cent receive medical severance, 18 per cent terminate for other reasons and 33 per cent retire.

In enlisted grades, one per cent die, one per cent are disabled either temporarily or permanently, 63 per cent fail to reenlist, 32 percent leave for other reasons, one per cent get medical severance and only two per cent retire.

With allowances, emoluments and benefits for officers and enlisted on relative parity, there is evidence that enlisted service lacks other inducements to "stay for 30." The Cordiner Committee study found money, opportunities in industry, and housing to be high on the list of major objections.

Although turnover of enlisted personnel has not posed particular problems in the past, demands for skill and experience to use and maintain the new weapons and equipment of modern warfare now make retention and replacement of trained men of paramount importance.

This, added to the fact that reenlistment rates have been highest in the so-called "soft skills," leaves the services slight hope for relief for shortage of men in critical military specialties unless additional career incentives are provided.

The military pay and incentive proposals, presently being weighed by the Armed Services Committees of both the House and Senate, while not a "cure-all" according to Defense officials who spearheaded testimony in support of the bills, are the first constructive step toward solving manpower problems.

NCO Wives Club

Mrs. Peggy Fraser, president, conducted the business meeting for the month of March with 67 members and seven guests present. Thirteen new members were welcomed into the club and received leis. Aloha gifts were presented to Nina Carbine, Marilyn Spencer and Adele Kander.

The program chairman announced that on March 18 at the regular monthly social meeting, CPO Maxwell and his team from Pearl Harbor will present a lecture on benefits available for the serviceman and his family. This will be followed by several games for entertainment.

Tour for the month will be to the Crippled Children's School in Honolulu followed by a luncheon at Christian's Hut. Cost of the luncheon will be $1.50, and the date will be announced at the social meeting.

Base School Library Gets 160 New Books

National Library Week, next week, marks a very special occasion for the pupils of Mokapu Elementary School. One hundred sixty new books have been added to Mokapu's collection. These books will be ready for borrowers at the beginning of National Library Week.

Among these books are volumes on gardening, shells, stamps, coins, cooking, doll making, photography, model airplanes, clay modeling and sports.

At Mokapu, as well as everywhere else, science has become most important. Among the books added in this field are many explaining scientific experiments.

The popularity of the library keeps growing. Evidence of this is shown by increased circulation and the necessity of limiting membership to the fifth and sixth grades in the two library clubs.

Notes on Education

The purpose of publishing information in this column in recent weeks has been to acquaint the individual Marine with the opportunities of the educational services offered by the Armed Forces. Along with these educational services the Station Education Office offers many additional aids to educational advancement.

On hand are numerous catalogs and bulletins of colleges and universities throughout the United States. Contained in the bulletins is the answer to questions you may have in regard to courses of study, entrance and degree requirements, and tuition and residence costs.

For personnel who will soon be transferred to another Marine Corps installation the Station Education Office can assist you with information on the educational opportunities offered at your next station. This information is a valuable aid in planning for those persons who hope to obtain a diploma or degree through off-duty education.

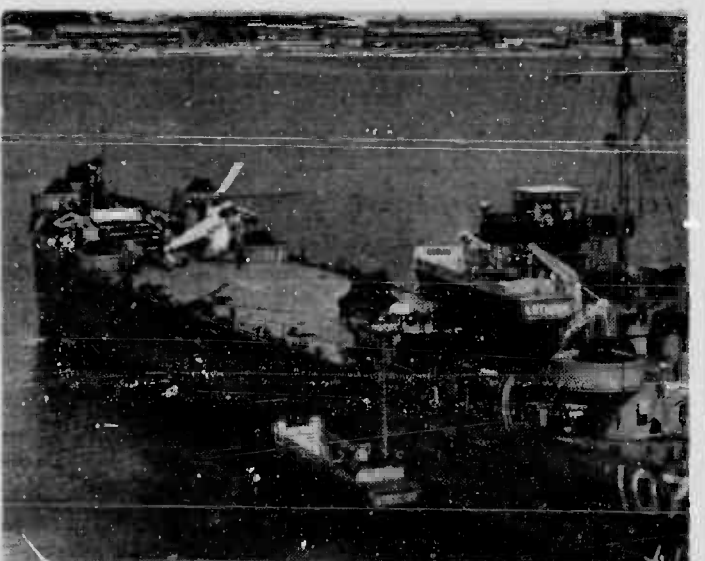

Many people are not aware that academic credit may be granted for service schools. Information concerning and the method of obtaining evaluation of military experiences in terms of academic credit is offered as another means of educational assistance.

Your unit education officer, because he does not have a large information facility, may not be able to solve all of your education problems. The Station Education Office hopes to satisfy you with a solution that may be difficult for the unit education officer to obtain.

NEW FEDERAL PROMOTION PLAN

The Civil Service Commission has adopted a new, Government-wide merit promotion program to help make certain that the Government's best talent comes to the forefront in meeting challenging problems facing Government today. Agencies are now required to set up and follow systematic procedures in making selections for promotion from among the best qualified employees.

The new program also requires agencies (1) to publish agency guide lines (the general promotion policy of the agency), (2) to consult with employees and employee organizations on merit promotion plans, (3) to inform employees about promotion procedures and (4) to document promotion actions. Some agencies already have programs in effect which include many of these features.

This is the first time that the Civil Service Commission has required that agency management establish promotion programs which conform to detailed standards. The Commission believes that such a program should contribute materially to the Government's ability to attract and retain high-quality employees. This action came after a

'KNOW YOUR GOVERNMENT' THEME STRESSED BY CSC CHAIRMAN

In directing attention to the appalling lack of public knowledge and appreciation of the Federal career civil service, Civil Service Commission Chairman Harris Ellsworth called for the replacing of fancy and rumor with fact and truth. In an address to the Denver Chamber of Commerce on Jan. 24 the Civil Service Chairman called for the removal of this particular obstacle in order to gain "for the career service its rightful prestige, the prestige which will attract into Federal service the people needed to successfully carry on the business of our Government in these critical times."

In attacking the often repeated false idea that Government employees cannot be fired, Mr. Ellsworth stated: "Career employees can't be fired for political reasons. But they certainly can be fired for unsatisfactory work or bad conduct. Last year 13,700 were removed from the service for such reasons. And of course even good workers may be laid off in reductions in force—though in such cases we place them if possible in other jobs where they are needed. The Federal civil service certainly is not a 'refuge for the incompetent,' nor is it cluttered up with idle employees who have nothing to do but draw their pay. The truth is that the merit system has produced an exceptional work force, made up of able and enthusiastic people who put in countless hours of voluntary overtime and who save the Government millions of dollars every year through beneficial suggestions and superior performance."

Marine Wrestlers Triumph In Territorial Team Tourney

The Hawaii Marine varsity wrestling team took its second straight major tourney in local competition last Saturday when they copped the Territorial AAU crown at the Central YMCA. Marine grapplers won seven of eight individual titles to run away with the team championship.

Taking first and third in the 160½ pound class were Cpl. John Libby and Pfc. Robert Harrison. Libby wrestled four opponents enroute to the title, pinning three and decisioning one. Harrison wrestled to two draws, pinned one opponent and was pinned himself by Libby.

Prior to their win in the Territorials, the Marines met Church College on March 5 in a duel encounter and prevailed by a 15-5-1 count.

the 191 pound title with Pvt. George Moore third, Oahu Open Champion, Marine Pfc. C. Belmont was pinned early in his first match and failed to place this week.

Heavyweight Cpl. Bill Frank garnered the Marines' final victory when he out-thought and out-manuevered his opposition, to roll to an easy and decisive title conquest. Cpl. Manny Congedo, stellar Hawaii Marine gridiron lineman also showed in the heavy-weight class.

Cpl. R. Lafferty and Pfc. C. Krause at 147½ pounds also represented the Hawaii Marines, as did Cpl. Edward Conrad, 174, and Pfc. Gregory Nicholas, 174.

Trounces San Diego 88-70; Showdown Looms Tonight

Touted as a potent fast-breaking club, the San Diego Marines were beaten at their own game Thursday night in Hangar 103 by a fired-up Hawaii Marine quintet which beat them to the punch repeatedly, plus the relentless sharpshooting of 2nd Lt. Jack Fannon. The final tally was 88-70 and placed the Hawaii club within one win of clinching the 1958 All Marine hoop title. Earlier in the tourney Maj. Ira Norfolk's hard court wizards ousted Camp Lejeune with an 86-72 conquest after San Diego had beaten the North Carolinians 61-46.

Hitting hard and fast in the third game of the tourney, Hawaii ran up an 8 to 0 lead on a flabbergasted San Diego squad in the first two minutes.

The locals controlled both boards with San Diego getting only one shot at the basket at a time and not being able to hit. The lead ballooned to 18-2 with four minutes left in the first quarter.

2nd Lt. Jack Fannon (24 points) was deadly from all over the floor and spearheaded the furious Hawaii scoring thrust. 2nd Lt. Bob Reese (21 points) was his usual inimitable self in setting up tallies with beautiful feeds underneath and driving for sure scores.

2nd Lt. Bill Weiman (9 points) and 1st Lt. Frank Julian (12 points) stole the ball frequently and scored repeatedly on fast breaks to run the San Diego defense ragged.

1st Lt. Ted Henderson (11 points) played his usual rugged game under the boards and scored on long one handers from outside.

Pfc. George Wall (2 points) and Cpl. Jack Mitchell (9 points) played outstanding roles in relief when called upon to give the first stringers a rest. The half time score was 51-32.

Cautious to the point of timidity, the San Diego and Camp Lejeune Marines faced each other on the hardwood court of Hangar 103 in the initial encounter of the 1958 All Marine Basketball Tournament on Tuesday night.

With neither team willing to gamble or force the action, the assembled fans witnessed a slow-moving first half which saw San Diego finally come alive in the waning minutes to run up a 23-18 advantage at the buzzer.

The score was tied on numerous occasions during the "probing" action in which both teams tried to set up easy scores and ended up by chucking icy outside heaves. San Diego led by 7-3 with four minutes to play in the first period. Lejeune then tied the score at 8 all on Ed Griffith's 35 ft. swishing set.

Terry Telligman's beautiful driving lay-up sent the Lejeune quintet ahead 10-8 at the end of the first period.

Both the clock and scoring pace seemed to crawl as both teams continued to chuck from outside without success. The last tie was at 18 apiece before San Diego started driving to run up a 23-18 half time spread.

San Diego Guard Ed Cain got over his stage-fright in the second half to spark a sensational attack which fashioned a 31-18 spread for the West Coast kingpins before Lejeune broke the ice.

The final tally read 61-48 in favor of San Diego.

Hawaii met Lejeune in the second clash of the tourney on Wednesday and coach Maj. Ira Norfolk turned his "Sputniks" loose to put the finishing touches on a runaway victory which ousted Camp Lejeune from the tournament.

Lejeune was held scoreless by a harrassing Hawaii defense and fell behind 12-0 before Leggett made good a free throw at 5:31 of the first period.

The lead was increased to 20-6 with 3:46 remaining in the first period.

The half time tally read 48-31 in favor of Hawaii.

Laurels must be awarded to the team as a whole as everybody on the Hawaii starting five had scored by the time three minutes had passed after the center jump.

Most of the second half was played by the Hawaii Marine reserves and they increased the score to 86-72 at the finish.

Jimmy Welsh of Lejeune played an outstanding game scoring nine points and ball-hawking to perfection.

BOXERS LOSE IN OABA CARD

Last Thursday night the OABA fight scene moved to Schofield's Bowl and listed six Marines slated to trade blows on the card.

Heavyweight Cpl. Percy Price lost on a medical forfeit to Willie Jones of the Army and featherweight Cpl. Carmen Scialabba lost via the same route to Danny Kosora of the University of Hawaii.

The remaining four Leatherneck boxers fought well but failed to enter the win column in the judges' scoring.

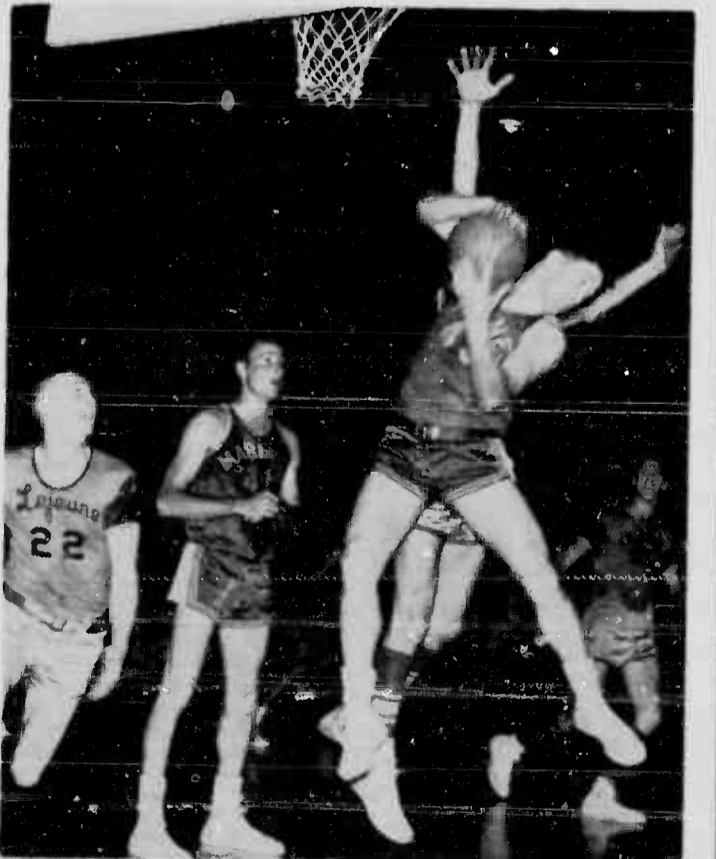

Andrew Heilman of the Army, who knocked out Pfc. Jesse Rodrigues of the Marines in the recent Hawaii Inter-Service Championship bouts, won on a decision over Pfc. Pierre Austin in a middleweight match.

In a light welterweight bout at 139 pounds, Marine Pfc. George Robinson lost a decision to Ray Almeida of the University of Hawaii.

Army welterweight Shelton Paige decisioned Pfc. George Graves of the Marines in a sharp punching affair at 147 pounds.

Puncher Paul Okudara of the HYC scored a technical knockout over Pfc. Glenn Nakai of the Marines in a lightweight contest at 132 pounds.

None of the Leatherneck big boys appeared in the night's activities as the All-Marine Tournament at Quantico looms ever closer. Its big one for the K-Bay squad and is slated to get underway on March 25.

Kahoolawe Isle Hunting Parties Are Prohibited

According to a Marine Corps Air Station order, unauthorized landings on Kahoolawe Island, for any purpose, are forbidden.

The island is reserved for Naval use and is under the jurisdiction of the Secretary of the Navy.

It is presently being used as a surface and aerial bombing target on a seven-day-week basis.

The Commandant, 14th Naval District, has had reports that hunting and fishing parties have made unauthorized landings on Kahoolawe, particularly on week-ends. These reports have further indicated that on some occasions military personnel have been members of these parties.

This practice is not only in violation of Federal law but is extremely dangerous to personnel involved due to the gunnery exercises that are held on many weekends. In addition there is the ever-present danger from unexploded bombs and shells known to be on the island.

Aku-Marines

By MAJ. S. F. LEADER

There will be another two mile swim at 1 p.m. tomorrow for those members who have not qualified as yet in that phase of becoming an AKU Marine. Please bring your mask, fins and snorkel to the AKU boathouse prior to the above time. Members who do not have the required skin-diving items will not be allowed to take the test.

Skin-diving and lung-diving tests will be held at the Enlisted pool this Sunday at 11 a.m. by Safety Instructor Cpl. T. G. Seiple.

SSgt. C. W. Parfurse, phone 72-815, and Cdr. R. E. Blalack, phone 254-942, will be the AKU boat captains for Saturday and Sunday respectively.

It was decided at the last weekly meeting that the club would have another picnic on Saturday, April 19.

On that date the "weigh-in" box for the present fishing contest will be opened and a trophy will be awarded to the member who has caught the largest edible fish and a trophy for the largest lobster. In case of ties, duplicate trophies will be awarded.

There will be several interesting skin-diving and lung-diving movies shown next Monday night after our regular business meeting. All AKUs who would like to learn more about the art of aqua-lung diving should not miss these movies.

Cpl. J. Pietila had a very interesting showing of his color movies made made on several lung-diving trips recently by AKU members. He also showed color movies that were taken at the last AKU picnic. These movies proved to be most enjoyable to all members who attended a recent meeting.

SAFETY RULES FOR ALL SKIN-DIVERS

1. Never wear ear plugs.
2. Never wear goggles, especially for deep diving.
3. Wear sweat shirts, long johns and gloves for protection against coral burns and scratches.

Rifle-Pistol Club

By PFC. BILL DOUGHERTY

The club sponsored 3rd Annual Rifle Tournament was held March 1 and 2 with great success as proudly reported by club and match officials.

MSgt. Lee Gross the club President, club officers and all the members join in expressing our appreciation and many thanks to all the participating shooters.

Particularly, we want to thank SSgt. Jennings and his butt detail which was provided by Station and Brigade units.

The Block NCO's for the match were TSgt. Richardson, SSgt. Armstrong, SSgt. Gee, MSgt. Klock and Sgt. Harris. The Range Officer was Lt. Frengel; Supervisor, Maj. Walker and line officer, Sgt. Maj. Waldron.

The statisticians office was really buzzing on both days and got the job done efficiently and on time. Lt. Steinhilber, heading the statistics office was assisted by Cpl. Johansen, Cpl. Ellis and Pfc. Clinebelle.

The luau following the match on Sunday, turned out to be a success also. It seems that the chow was soon exhausted and indicated a fine time for all.

Again many thanks for the fine help which we received.

1st Bn. Suffers Squeaker Setback At Hands of Surging 2nd Bn., 4th

Board control paid off for the 2nd Bn., 4th Marines' basketball team last Friday night when they broke the spell of the league-leading 1st Bn., 4th Marines and hung the first setback of the season on them with a 46-45 squeaker. In the second game, cellar-dwelling Hq&HqSq, MCAS finally entered the win column with a 50-49 victory over seventh place 3rd Bn., 4th Marines.

It was the second one point margin of victory of the night.

Led by the league individual scoring pace-setter, Cpl. Ron Jackson, the 2nd Bn., 4th Marines handed the 1st Bn., 4th Marines their first loss after six straight wins in the Brigade-Station Basketball League. Jackson tanked 21 points, and was outstanding on rebounds for the winners.

The game was a close, hard-fought affair all the way with 2nd Bn. grabbing a slim margin at the outset and defending it successfully to lead throughout the game.

Pfc. T. Mason, 2nd Bn. forward aided Jackson off the boards and scored well inside to rack up ten points. He fouled out midway in the third quarter but was ably replaced by his understudy, Pfc. C. Johnson, who came in to control both boards.

Cpl. A. Patterson, classy floor general of the 2nd Bn. tossed in eight counters and directed the winners attack.

In the second half the 2nd Bn. broke it wide open and led by 14 points with about six minutes remaining in the game.

2nd Bn. passing and pattern-plays eased up at this point and the 1st Bn. intercepted five straight passes, scoring each time on fast breaks to come from nowhere and put themselves in contention once again.

Famous for their last minute spurts the league leaders really poured it on behind Cpl. Griffin, Pfc. Robert Lincoln and Pfc. Morris Byars to close to one point at the final buzzer, 46-45.

Byars was high for the losers with a 16 point output, followed by Lincoln with 14.

Two K-Bay Marines Win Muscle Awards

Local body builders had a chance to show off their improvements on nature's endowments in the "Mr. YMCA of Honolulu" Physique contest held Feb. 28 at the Central YMCA.

Two young Kaneohe based Marines took second and third in the junior division of the contest.

Sgt. E. Rozniata, Service Bn., and Cpl. Angel Serrano, 3rd Bn., 4th Marines, were the Marines who won the places.

Both men are active members of the Armed Services 'Y' and are enrolled in the body building course taught by Itsuo Yamaguchi. This course is open to all military personnel.

Further information on the course may be obtained by calling Robert West at 63-735.

1-6 by a one point win over 3rd Bn., 4th Marines was MCAS, sparked by Pfc. C. R. Taylor's scoring effort of 21 points.

It was a nip and tuck battle all the way with neither team showing marked superiority in any phase of play. 3rd Bn., 4th Marines moved out to a two point spread at the intermission and led 26-24.

Waxing hot in the third period the 3rd Bn. team increased its advantage to seven points but could not hold the lead.

Behind Taylor's shooting and rebounding, the MCAS team closed strongly to take the lead for the first time in the game and prevail 50-49 at the final buzzer.

Taylor's 21 points entrenched him more firmly in the runner-up slot in league scoring.

Cpl. Rufus Roney led the 3rd Bn. scoring with 10 points.

Following are the standings of the teams in the Brigade-Station hoop circuit:

1. 1st Bn., 4th Marines	6	1

Brigade-Station Softball Loop Opens Mar. 24

All game equipment will be provided by the designated home team and unit Special Services officers will be responsible for outfitting the teams.

Qualified officials will be retained from the Armed Forces Official's Association of Hawaii for the duration of the Brigade-Station Softball season.

The ten run rule will be in effect for all games; if the home team has scored 10 runs more at the end of its fourth inning than the visiting team has scored in five complete innings the game will be called. It will be entered in the books as an official game.

There will be a meeting of all coaches at 9 a.m., Monday, March 17 in the Brigade-Station Sports Director's office in Building 256. All coaches will be required to present complete team rosters at this time.

REGIMENTAL RIFLE WIN GOES TO CLERK-DRIVERS

By SGT. JIM WOOTEN

A one point margin at the 500 yard line netted a four man team, composed of clerks and drivers from Headquarters and Service Co., 4th Marines, the top spot in the first 1958 4th Marines Intramural Rifle Match. The action took place last Sunday afternoon at the K-Bay rifle range.

Cpl. Carl Zukowski's score of 45 at the 500 edged his teammates ahead of the runner-up team from "L" Co., 3rd Bn., 4th Marines which tied for first with an aggregate score of 645 x 800.

Two 2nd Bn. privates first class capped top individual honors.

Phil Laspino's firing won him first place, a 10 dollar Exchange gift certificate and a regimental crest cigarette lighter. Laspino, a member of H&S Co., 2nd Bn., 4th Marines netted a 174 total.

A 172 tally earned Ray Jenne of "H" Co. the coveted runner-up place. He received a five dollar gift certificate and a lighter.

Zukowski placed third with a score of 171 and was awarded a cigarette lighter.

Each member of the top team will receive lighters bearing the 4th Marines' insignia. The regimental commander, Col. George A. Roll, presented awards during ceremonies held after the match Sunday afternoon.

The match consisted of four stages utilizing the service rifle. Each shooter fired 10 rounds from each of the following positions; off-hand, sitting rapid, prone rapid, and the 500 yard line. The first two positions were at the 200 yard line while firers went to the prone at the 300 yard line.

In order to participate in the Regimental match, a competitor must meet the following prerequisites: he must be a member of the 4th Marines; have less than three years in the Marine Corps and must never have fired in National Rifle Association competition.

These matches will be held for

Armed Forces 'Y' Offers Classes In Wrestling

The Armed Services YMCA has announced a wrestling program for enlisted military personnel every Friday, from 5 p.m. until 7 p.m.

The program, which is free to enlisted men, is under the direction of Clarence Wilmington, well known locally in amateur athletics and a former Territorial amateur wrestling champion.

all class of marksmen at various intervals.

The regimental operations section anticipated that the competition would be held on a monthly basis. The purpose of the marksmanship program is to stimulate interest and to develop a high plane of proficiency in competitive shooting.

Speed Week Track Undergoes Changes

Several changes have been made in the 3.1 mile course at Dillingham Field, scene of the second annual Hawaii Speed Week, May 9, 10, and 11.

The major changes include making the chicane into a sweeping "S" turn and also the addition of some curves to the back straightway. This is expected to add a little more trickery to the course and put more emphasis on driving technique rather than sustained top speed.

Also there will be a shorter course that will be used for all cars under 1600cc which is expected to make for much closer competition in these events.

Entry blanks for Hawaii Speed Week have been mailed out to all the leading sports car racers in the country and early indications point to a record turnout of cars and drivers.

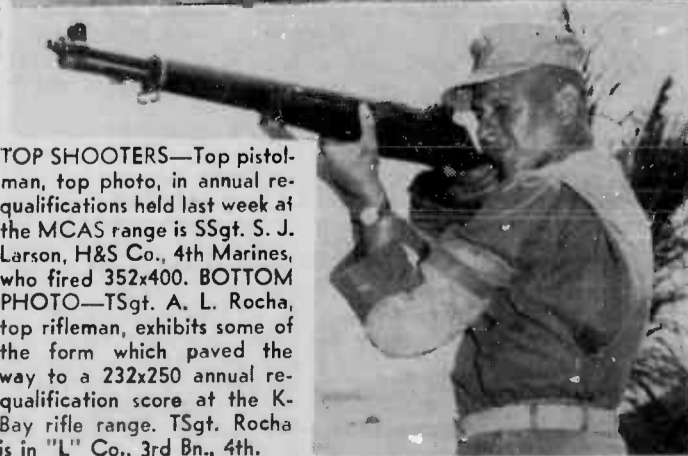

The races are being co-sponsored by the Sports Car Club of America, Hawaii region; Associated Sports Car Clubs of Hawaii, Inc.; Armed Forces Foreign Car Club and the MG Club of Hawaii.

Track Trials Held At Univ. of Hawaii

Scheduled tryouts for the Hawaii Marine varsity track team conclude today at the University of Hawaii's Cooke Field.

Due to the small turnout, tryouts for position and events will continue until the team is up to competitive strength. Persons who were unable to attend the scheduled tryouts at the University are asked to contact 1st Lt. Vince Jazwinski, Hawaii Marine track coach at ext. 72548, Station Special Services office, for interview and possible tryout.

The Marine thinclads will meet the University of Hawaii in the season's opener April 12 at Cooke Field.

HELL'S ISLAND—A tale of suspense and intrigue in which a soldier of fortune attempts to recover a fabulous gem. He is menaced throughout the flicker by a beautiful but bad Latin American beauty (tough duty, isn't it?) This John Payne really has some tough jobs.

SATURDAY MATINEE STRATEGIC AIR COMMAND — with James Stewart and June Allyson. Story of a jet pilot and his family.

SATURDAY MONEY FROM HOME—Jerry Lewis and his former partner, Dean Martin, take over for an evening filled with side splitting antics that will keep you rolling in the aisles. You can be sure Dino sings his way through the love scenes while Jerry madcaps around dropping to all fours every now and then.

SUNDAY MATINEE SPOOK CHASERS—Stanley Clement and Huntz Hall. No further information available.

SUNDAY ALASKA SEAS—Stars Jan Sterling and Robert Ryan. No other information available.

MONDAY RIDE A VIOLENT MILE — With Penny Edwards and John Agar. Actually, the story is taken from a true incident of espionage in Utah during the Civil War.

TUESDAY BOP GIRLS—A college prof who has information that calypso is selling more than rock 'n' roll. As Nietzsche said, "If freaks are what our children delight in seeing we have only to extend their schooling into the high schools and colleges of our great country." Who else would make such a survey. This is a winner for the bubble gum brigade.

WEDNESDAY JOKER IS WILD—This is an unusual flicker concerning show business. Unusual because it has no hero nor a happy ending. Frank Sinatra plays Joe E. Lewis, the night club comic, in one of the best roles since "The Man With the Golden Arm." Contains much music, many quips and plenty of drinking.

THURSDAY THE BLACK SCORPION—Science fiction drama that carries you on an exciting excursion into the world of giant creatures. A huge volcano erupts in Mexico and giant scorpions escape from their caves to the earth's surface. One friend is 150 feet long and 50 feet high; he runs wild through town and kills many. The government and military try to do him in. They do in the end.

On the "DON'T MISS LIST" for this week is "Joker Is Wild."

One for the Books

SIGRID AND THE SERGEANT by Robert Buckner is an amusing new novel about the American GIs in Germany and particularly about Sgt. Willis Kling, undisputed leader of the "Wolf Patrol," who wished to avoid matrimony but who made a mistake when he trained his camera on pert, pretty Sigrid who was secretly a member of the Pomerantz Plan, the most diabolical scheme ever devised to lead GIs into lifelong "captivity!"

THE MAPMAKER by Frank G. Slaughter is a new historical novel that is the story of Andrea Bianco (El Hakim), a real Venetian mapmaker whose brilliant navigation long before Columbus added so much to the fame of Portugal's Prince Henry, the Navigator.

PETER FREUCHEN'S BOOK OF THE SEVEN SEAS by Peter Freuchen is a "wonderful volume filled with story, lore and legend... with history and fact... with myths and strange tales... with magnificent illustrations" about the "Seven Seas."
