MARINE CORPS BASE, CAMP LEJEUNE, N. C.

DECEMBER 15, 1966

NEW CG—Major General Joseph O. Butcher takes the Base Colors from Major General Ormond R. Simpson, during ceremonies here Monday. General Butcher becomes the 27th Commander for Marine Corps Base.

MajGen. Butcher Takes Base Reins

Major General Joseph H. Butcher accepted the colors and command of Marine Corps Base, Monday from Major General Ormond R. Simpson during formal ceremonies here.

Officers and men of the four commands which make up the Base stood in near freezing weather as the formal exchange of colors was executed.

Representing the Commandant of the Marine Corps, Major General William J. Van Ryzin, G-4 of the Marine Corps, delivered the Commandant's welcome to the new commander and praise to General Simpson.

In the Commandant's message, General Greene praised General Simpson for the outstanding performance of his duty as Base Commander while still having command of the 2d Marine Division, and welcomed with confidence General Butcher as new commander.

Commanders from nearly every unit based at or around Camp Lejeune were in attendance for the ceremony.

After the exchange of colors

Generals Butcher and Simpson boarded a specially prepared vehicle and "trooped the line" of the assembled command.

As they returned to their place of review, Assistant Base Commander, Colonel D. E. Hubbard, gave the order to "pass in review." Each command passed before the two commanders in salute to both.

General Butcher is the 27th Base Commander for Camp Lejeune.

Force Troops CG Gets Second Star

Brigadier General John G. Bouker, Commanding General Force Troops has been selected for Major General according to a release received here Tuesday.

General Bouker received his first star in November, 1961 and was assigned Deputy Director of the Marine Corps Reserve.

Facility ISO Named In 'Dateline: Vietnam'

Second Lieutenant Fred Tucker, presently serving as Joint Informational Services Officer, Marine Corps Air Facility, is one of six former Quad-Command correspondents who are contributors to a new 191-page book titled, "Dateline: Vietnam."

The book, edited by former Marine Information Officer Jack Lewis, is based on official news reports issued by the Combat Information Bureau of the III Marine Amphibious Force.

Included in the list of Combat Correspondents are former 2d Marine Division writers, Warrant Officer W. F. (Jack) Childs, Sgt. F. Dunlap and Lieutenant Tucker and GySgt. R. F. (Dick) McChesney, and GySgt. R. Russell, formally with Base ISO, along with 39 other correspondents.

Brigadier General Robert L. Deing, founder of the World War II Marine Corps Combat Correspondent's organization, introduced the book with the following message:

"This book has no plot; at this time it doesn't really have an ending. The reports contained herein were written by Marine Corps Combat Correspondents. None of these Marines have gained any lasting fame; none are wealthy--by any military standards they are underpaid for the risks they take--and in any combat situation, there never is enough time."

Mr. Lewis has donated his editor's fee of $1,000 to the Marine Corps Reserve Civic Action Fund and further proceeds from the book will be donated to the fund, according to the publisher. Mr. Lewis is co-owner of Gallant Publications in Covina, Calif.

Center Open For 3/2 Dependents

Dependents of Marines returning with Battalion Landing Team 3/2 and Marine Medium Helicopter Squadron 365 (HMM-365), will be able to greet the returnees at reception centers at Camp Lejeune and New River Air Facility.

The reception center for BLT 3/2 will be located at the Area Two Recreation Center, building 225, while HMM-365 will have its reception center in the new hangar, building 515, at the Air Facility. Both centers will open at 10 a. m. and will serve refreshments.

BLT 3/2, commanded by Lieutenant Colonel Clark V. Judge, and HMM-365, under the command of Major Kermit W. Andrus, are scheduled to return to Camp Lejeune Thursday, December 15, following a three-month deployment as the Caribbean Ready Force.

Members of Companies L and M will debark from ships of the U. S. Navy's Amphibious Squadron 10 (PHIBRON-10) at Morehead City, N. C., while members of Companies I and K will be helilifted to Onslow Beach by HMM-365.

PHIBRON-10 ships returning the Marines to Camp Lejeune include; the tank landing ship USS Suffolk County, the amphibious assault ship USS Boxer, the attack cargo ship USS Rankin, the dock landing ship USS Plymouth Rock and the attack transport USS Ruchamkin.

While in the Caribbean, BLT 3/2 conducted extensive training operations, utilizing tank, artillery and helicopter support units. They also employed company, platoon and squad size tactics, which included day and night live-fire exercises.

The landing team was relieved by BLT 2/8, commanded by Lieutenant Colonel Charles G. Cooper, which departed Camp Lejeune November 28.

sets and later Dartmouth, Hanover, N. H.

He graduated from Dartmouth and was commissioned a second lieutenant in the Marine Corps Reserve on August 6, 1936.

He came on active duty on September 30, 1939 as a first lieutenant and after attending the First Reserve Officers' Class at Marine Corps Schools, Quantico and received his first assignment to Marine Barracks, Parris Island, S. C.

He was further schooled at the Coast Artillery School, Fort Monroe, Va., before he left for the Pacific area in June 1943.

His campaigns in the Pacific included Cape Torokina during the Treasury-Bougainville campaigns, Solomons and the assault and occupation of Okinawa.

For his actions on Okinawa he earned the Bronze Star Medal as Operations Officer, 3d Defense Bn. First Corps.

Israeli Attache Visits Camp Lejeune Facilities

Brigadier General Joseph Geva, Israeli Defense and Armed Forces Attache, visited Camp Lejeune training facilities Tuesday.

The General arrived at Marine Corps Air Facility, New River, after a visit to Marine Corps Recruit Depot, Parris Island, S. C.

His first stop was at the 1st Infantry Training Regiment where he observed the training of new Marines in advanced infantry tactics.

His visit there coincided with his Recruit Depot visit in that he could see how a Marine progressed through his training.

In the afternoon, he met with Major General Joseph O. Butcher, Base Commander. He is the first foreign visitor to be greeted by the new Base Commander.

On his second day, following breakfast with General Butcher, General Geva met with Major General Ormond R. Simpson and observed Morning Colors with the Division Commander.

He then toured the training facilities and units of the 2d Marine Division, was briefed on the Division's mission and following lunch, departed for Washington, D. C.

Safe Holiday

It looks like the bad weather is with us now for a while and it is time we started thinking about the hazards involved while driving on slick and wet roads.

With the weather getting colder, we face the danger of ice on the road and for those of us who have never driven on icy roads, it can be very hazardous.

December, especially, is considered one of the worst months for automobile accidents and therefore we should be extra cautious on the roads.

Deaths as a result of auto accidents last year reached 4,950 while 175,000 persons were injured. This involved a cost of $860 million.

Statistic keepers find that three out of four fatal Christmas accident involve driving too fast for conditions or in excess of a stated speed limit. The limits are all determined to conform with road conditions or layout and not to slow us down on purpose.

When you approach a curve you will see a sign showing the speed merely to let you make the curve at safe speed. The result of those who don't heed the warning can be seen in the list of statistics.

The other most dangerous incident which causes more than half of the Christmas auto deaths is mixing alcohol with gasoline. During the balance of the year, drinking and driving causes one of three accidents.

Studies on holiday accidents show that fatal accidents occur early in the holiday period. During the last six hours of Christmas Eve, for instance, the hourly rate for fatal accidents is about five times greater than it is for the remainder of the holiday.

Maybe you're one who doesn't have a car and think that these facts mean nothing to you. Well, unfortunately, you too are caught up in the statistics.

In a special study by the National Safety Council, they found that one out of four Christmas accidents involve pedestrians of which 40 percent occur between 4 p.m. and midnight Christmas Eve. Nearly 75 percent occur during the first 30 hours of the holiday.

It takes so little effort to be especially careful in all that we do during the holidays. An extra look when we back up and an occasional peek in the rear view mirror on the road or a stop along the way to rest on long trips.

This command would rather you take just that little extra time and return, than for you to hurry back and be brought in on a stretcher. Allow yourself enough time to go and come back. There will be other leaves for you to enjoy without having to jeopardize your life to make it stretch those last few hours. Enjoy this holiday, but live to enjoy many more still. Have a safe holiday.

Bulletin Outlines Decoration Info

If you want to decorate your office, unit or building, the money will have to come out of the unit fund. Decorations will not be provided by Base Maintenance, according to Base Bulletin 5000 of Dec. 6.

Illumination in outdoor decorations is authorized, however, material so used will be of weatherproof manufacture. For large or extensive outdoor electrical displays, approval must be granted by the Base Maintenance Officer Ext. 7-5205.

The indoor lights are limited to bulbs no larger than 10 watts and must be turned off when the occupants are absent.

All outdoor decorative lights will be turned off by midnight daily except those decorations on entrances to Camp Lejeune, according to the bulletin.

Placing lights on the roof of any building is not permitted and trees will not be placed in living spaces in barracks or BOQs, but may be placed in recreation rooms and lobbies, the order said.

CHRISTMASTIME! Here's a smattering of the ways people around the world enjoy it. It begins early!

A HOLIDAY CALENDAR

November 27. The first Sunday of Advent. The first candle of the Advent wreath is lighted.

December 4. The second Sunday of Advent. Two candles of the Advent wreath are lighted.

December 6. This is the feast day of Saint Nicholas. In France, Holland, and Belgium, children put out their shoes to be filled with presents by the Saint. In Austria, Krampus and Nikkalo visit families with children. The Krampus, (dressed in black) carries branches to whack bad children. Nikkalo, (dressed in white, gold and red) distributes presents to the good children.

December 11. The third Sunday of Advent. Three candles of the Advent wreath are lighted.

December 13. This is Lucia Day in Sweden. Lucia, the symbol of light, celebrates the festival of Lights in deepest winter darkness. The Lucia Bride, pretty, blonde, and wearing a long white gown and crown of lighted candles, goes singing through the house serving breakfast.

December 16. Nine days before Christmas Eve, Las Posadas of Mexico start making rounds. They are carol singers who seek shelter in memory of Joseph and Mary's search in Bethlehem.

December 18. The fourth Sunday of Advent. All four candles of the Advent wreath are lighted.

December 21. The Finns celebrate St. Thomas day. It's the last one for active preparations. After this, the families devote their time to spiritual and religious preparations only.

December 24. Christmas Eve. In England the Yule log is brought in and lighted. A tradition has developed that a branch is kept to help light the next year's log. This is the most festive night of all in Austria, Germany, Sweden and Switzerland.

December 25. Christmas Day. In America Christmas is celebrated with many traditions--some old, some new. Most important of the traditions is the "spirit of giving."

December 26. Boxing Day. This is the first work day after Christmas and it used to be the day when tenants got their Christmas boxes. In Norway it is a party day--the children's in the early afternoon; the adult parties later in the evening.

December 31. New Year's Eve. This is a night for superstition and fortune-telling. In Ireland the man of the house takes a loaf of bread and strikes the door of the house three times: "Out with misfortune--"

January 1. New Year's Day. The French children get gifts on January 1st and there is much visiting and wishing of luck. The New Year's cards in Germany are printed with the symbols of luck, the clover-leaf, marzipan, suckling pigs and chimney sweeps.

January 6. Epiphany. The Spanish children put their shoes on the window-sills and the Magi (three kings) fill them with presents. In Italy the Befana, a benevolent old witch comes down the chimney to fill children's shoes.

HOLIDAY SAFETY PROGRAM...With the Christmas and New Years holiday season rapidly approaching, we are again faced with our annual problems of heavy traffic on the highways with the ice and snow of winter weather and the FIRE HAZARDS presented by holiday decorations. I would like to call to the attention of all commanding officers that the Base Safety Director (phone: 7-5725) has some excellent material for the holiday safety program available to you on request. Your representative on the Traffic Safety Council is well familiar with it. In addition, the Fire Department has prepared an excellent set of instructions for precautions to be observed for a "fire safe holiday season" telling you how to prepare your Christmas tree, lights, decorations and Christmas wrappings. They will be distributed to all units and housing areas. While I'm on the subject of fires...we have had two fires recently...as usual caused by carelessness...$300 damage caused by a child playing with a cigarette lighter...$50 damage caused by a Marine drying his clothes on a light bulb. COMMON SENSE???????

SALESMEN AND SALESWOMEN IN THE HOUSING AREAS. I have indications that unauthorized soliciting is being conducted in the housing areas. BO 5370.5A establishes regulations to protect all Marines and their dependents living aboard this base from the annoyance of having salesmen making house-to-house calls and telephone calls unless they have been invited by you and have been cleared through my office. If they have been cleared, they will have written proof signed by me, and I will NOT clear them unless I have proof that you desire to see them. Call this office, 7-5151, if you are contacted in person or by phone. The prime target of these unauthorized calls are young newly married couples who are being sold luxury items you really do not need and often are too expensive for your current income. For example, encyclopaedia, expensive cooking utensils, insurance in excess of your means, magazines, books, etc. DON'T GO INTO DEBT FOR NEEDLESS LUXURIES. Counseling is available to every Marine on every possible subject...see your first sergeant or commanding officer before making any financial commitment that could result in indebtedness and hurt your chances for promotion and choice duty assignments.

PETTY THIEVES are doing their Christmas shopping early along with the rest of the honest citizens aboard this base. LOCK YOUR CAR. A day has not gone by in the last two weeks that there has not been a theft of valuables from cars in private driveways, as well as the Marine Corps Exchange, service clubs, and barracks parking lots. In almost every case the items have been left in unlocked cars lying in full view. The "locked" cars have shown no evidence of forced entry. There have been many incidents in the past when valuable items have been left on the seats of locked cars and the windows been broken to unlock the car. The moral to the story is...IF YOU HAVE ANYTHING OF VALUE IN YOUR CAR, LOCK THE CAR AND IF POSSIBLE PUT IT OUT OF SIGHT, UNDER THE SEAT, IN THE TRUNK...MOST PEOPLE ARE HONEST BUT DON'T TEMPT THE BORDERLINE CASES.

WEARING UTILITY UNIFORM OFF BASE IS STRICTLY FORBIDDEN by BO 1020.8E. You can wear utilities to and from work. If you drive directly from your quarters to your place of duty. No, you cannot stop and check on your car; you cannot stop at the corner store for a loaf of bread; you cannot stop and make a phone call. YOU CANNOT GET OUT OF YOUR PRIVATE VEHICLE OFF BASE IN THE UTILITY UNIFORM. Offense reports are issued to violators. They all say the same thing, "I didn't know." Company and battery commanders can save yourselves and my office a lot of unnecessary work if you will insure that every member of your command is thoroughly familiar with uniform regulations.

VANDALISM... There have been six cases of vandalism in the last few weeks where dependent children have damaged, destroyed or stolen government and private property in the vicinity of the elementary and junior-senior high schools. Total damages are well over $1,000. All of these cases have been solved or will be solved in the near future. The parents of the children involved will be required to pay for this damage and they will be punished in accordance with BO 1752.1. This is a continuing problem and has resulted in considerable inconvenience to the families involved. All parents with dependent children are invited to study BO 1752.1, which concerns the handling of juvenile problems aboard this base, and inform their children of its contents. There are currently some 11 civilian contractors aboard the base in Brewster School and Berkeley Manor areas who have some expensive equipment which is left in the area unattended during non-working hours. I already have reports of children playing on this equipment and some vandalism. I am asking for the help of all responsible parents. For the children's safety and your benefit, please indoctrinate your children to leave public property and private property of others alone. If you don't, we'll be seeing a lot of each other. I've spent many hours the past two weeks talking to children in trouble and their parents. It has not been pleasant...for anyone concerned. TEACH YOUR CHILDREN TO RESPECT AUTHORITY AND THE RIGHTS OF OTHERS SO I DON'T HAVE TO DO IT FOR YOU.

STORAGE OF ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGES...The possession of alcoholic beverages in public quarters and rental housing by military personnel residing in such quarters or housing is authorized. It will not be kept in garages or on porches unless in a LOCKED container, such as a cabinet. (BO 1746.15C)

REMINDERS FOR A HAPPY HOLIDAY SEASON...BARRACKS THEFTS CONTINUE. SECURE YOUR VALUABLES...THE TRAFFIC DEATH TOLL FOR CAMP LEJEUNE IS NOW UP TO 46! DRIVE CAREFULLY!...LOOK BEFORE YOU BACK, SIX MORE BACKING ACCIDENTS...DO NOT LEAVE YOUR KEYS IN YOUR CAR UNATTENDED!

The lead elements of SSgt. Clay's unit began a disorganized withdrawal.

SSgt. Clay, three hundred meters behind the lead elements with the command group, was pinned down by automatic weapons fire from the flank. As the firing continued, the soldier carrying the advisor's radio was separated from the command group. With complete disregard for his own personal safety, SSgt. Clay moved, openly under fire, to search for the radio carrier. When he found the radio, still under heavy fire he returned with it to the command group." SSgt. Reproduction Center Helps Force Troops Administrators

Tucked away in a sound-absorbing concrete room in Building 59, we find one of the most valuable administrative services to Force Troops Headquarters.

This is the Reproduction Center--which runs about 300 reams of offset copies per month from the masters submitted by all the units of Force Troops.

Although the bulk of their work is for order writing, the services are also of great use to all other areas.

Major James G. Hallet, Jr., Adjutant, is in charge of this service function. The men who actually perform the operations are Lance Corporal Emerson E. Grimsby and Lance Corporal Douglas R. Ware. Grimsby has a school background in the needed subjects for his job. Ware was a printer in civilian life.

ing request is a relatively uncomplicated but exacting process. Each submission is on a DD 844 form which accompanies the offset master. With order writing receiving priority, the other jobs are run on a first come basis.

Once the order is run, the requester picks up his material at the repro room. The pressman's responsibility is solely that of printing the orders.

The physical processing of an incoming request begins by examining the order and the master to determine the nature of the job and whether or not the offset master is acceptable for use.

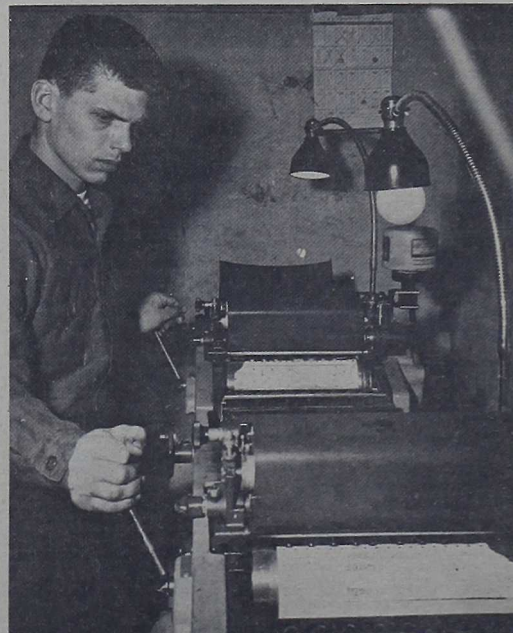

The master is wiped with a solution which is the basis for the water-ink separation principle of the offset printing.

The master is then loaded to the printing cylinder and re-wiped as a final check against fingerprints and smudges on the copies. With the paper stock in the Multilith 1250, the order is run under the close observation of the operator.

When a job is requested back-to-back (with the copy on both sides of the sheet), the first side of the copy material is run and then the back-side master is loaded to the machine and run. This procedure is used on the 1250 single-cylinder machine.

Recently, the repro operation acquired a Multilith 1275 dual-cylinder machine which is more adept to running back-to-back jobs. This model prints both sides of the copy in a single run. It accomplishes this by the use of two printing cylinders. This is definitely a more economical machine; not only does it save the operator time, but it has an electronic counting device which controls the number of copies run.

Gen. Simpson Dedicates Building For Navy Relief

On December 8, the Navy Relief Wing, Building #41 was dedicated by Major General Ormond R. Simpson, Commanding General, Marine Corps Base and 2d Marine Division.

The newly constructed wing constitutes the first building program ever undertaken by the national Navy Relief Society as a Nonappropriated Fund Project. The centrally air-conditioned wing has 1,700 square feet of floor space and contains facilities for a reception and waiting room, five interviewing rooms, clerical department quarters, and storage rooms.

General Simpson informally dedicated the building to the Volunteer Women "who so effectively and selflessly serve Marine Corps and Navy Personnel and their dependents." The General added, "this Base could not function without Navy Relief, and Navy Relief could not function without Volunteer Women."

Following the dedication an Open House was held for the Volunteer Women and guests. Commander George F. Rossbach, CHC, USN Base chaplain gave the invocation.

Guests were given a tour of the new facility during the Open House and thirty seven Volunteer Women were presented pins by General Simpson for their outstanding service to the Navy Relief Society. Second Lieutenant James F. Jackson was presented a Letter of Appreciation for his assistance to the Volunteer Women.

How To Get Ready For Christmas

One of the requests we make of God when we pray the Lord's Prayer is that God's Kingdom come to us. And in our Creeds we state a belief that He will come again gloriously to judge the living and the dead. We are, therefore, asking God to come to us with the expectation that he will do so.

When we invite our friends to visit us, we make the house ready and prepare refreshments knowing that the sharing of some time together will be enjoyable. If it should happen that we invite an important person, one whom we respect as being somehow more significant than we are, special effort is put forth that all things be ready. Excitement stirs us as the day of our guests' arrival approaches, and the million last minute things get done, hopefully on time. We want to be relaxed and casual, apparently at ease and calm as we walk to open the door for our guests.

Christmas is coming, and for each of us there is a sentimental kind of feeling, but a real one, that the Child is born anew in our lives. The presents are being bought and the houses decorated for this. We continue to invite our Lord expectantly; but we do well to remind ourselves that it is Christ who is coming. The King of Kings and Lord of Lords is due in our hearts. It would be well to take some time to reread the story of His Coming in St. Luke's or St. Matthew's account, so that the most important part of our preparation will have been made.

We want to walk relaxed and at ease to the door to greet our guest. Take a little time in the panic of preparation to read up on the Story, to awaken it in your mind's eye. We need Him to warm us to his love; in His coming we shall find ourselves, seen as we are and held in the loving arms of God.

1500 Enjoy Party

More than 1,500 children greeted Santa Claus at the Annual Children's Christmas Party held last Saturday at Goettge Memorial Field House.

Featured on the one and a half hour program was the Camp Lejeune Girls Club under the direction of Mrs. Alice Rubio, and the East Carolina College Gymnastics Club.

Opening the festivities with "Jingle Bells" and "Rudolph the Red-Nosed Reindeer," the Girls Club was followed by the Gymnastics Club with lively tumbling, bouncing and acrobatic events.

Also featured was Miss Susan Cappelletto, former national junior baton twirling champion, who displayed her skills with the baton.

Throughout the program the children were delighted by the zany acts of Steve Norwood as "Jo-Jo" the clown. He was supported by Hampton Carmine.

The grand finale for the program was the arrival of the Santa Claus with his gifts for all

'C' Co., 2d Shore Party Wins Drill Competition

Freezing weather greeted four units from the 2d Marine Division, which competed for the 2d Marine Division Association Company/Battery Drill Award, Tuesday November 29 at Camp Lejeune.

Members of the 6th Marines, 10th Marines, 2d Engineer Battalion and 2d Shore Party Battalion participated in the Ninth Annual Competition, with Company C, 2d Shore Party Battalion, emerging the winner. Second place went to Company C, 2d Battalion, 10th Marines.

The purpose of the annual competition is to help inspire individuals to perform as members of a team, working confidently together in unison and to a measured cadence.

Close order drill provides more than just a standard, orderly means of moving units from one place to another. It also provides simple formations from which combat formations may readily be assumed, and helps build morale by developing team spirit.

Another important function of drill is to give junior officers and non-commissioned officers confidence and practice in giving proper commands.

The units were graded on appearance, the manual of arms, company drill and platoon and squad size drills. Colonel William R. Ourand, Jr., Division inspector, was the chief judge of the event, with Lieutenant Colonel R. J. Weber assisting.

Commanding General's Yule Safety Message

As we again approach the Christmas-New Year's holiday season, many of us are making leave plans which include travel on our highways. As we do so, let's be ever mindful of the driving conditions to be expected.

Vast numbers of cars will crowd the nation's highways. Bad weather is common over much of the country at this time of year. Many drivers will be attempting to travel too far and too fast. There will be a higher incidence of drivers under the influence of intoxicants. The result will probably again be a high number of traffic deaths and injuries.

I urge that you keep ever before you the awareness of the danger involved and plan accordingly. Allow sufficient time for your trip, and adhere to those safe driving practices in which you have been instructed. I'm sure that by so doing, we can avoid the wanton waste of life and needless tragedy of sudden death on our highways.

To each of you I extend my very best wishes for a safe and joyous holiday season.

Project officer Major said all of the competing units a few minor mistakes, but "All in all," he said, "it was close as it could be without ending up in a tie."

It all began at 1 p.m. 2/2 was the first to be checked out by the Chief Umpire, Lieutenant Colonel H. Kiser, Commanding Officer, 2d Reconnaissance Battalion, and Major Joy.

The squad from 1/8 entered the competition at 2 p.m. The inspecting party had blackened the eyes of the participants in their first aid packs fastened together to prevent tampering. Everything was checked, everything was checked, everything was checked, everything was checked.

Since each unit ran its own course, the first to go was the 2/2 Reconnaissance Battalion. None of the participants had never been through a live fire exercise or even if they would be.

One of the men inspected was Bob Hooper of Division H. "We tried to make it as safe as possible," he said, "but the aggressors out there were not to be trifled with. Viet Cong type aggressors must have been there because they drew only light into what would be termed a recon patrol—don't get me wrong, it was a simulated command post.

The purpose of the exercise was to test the squads' ability to report their findings to the spot where they were to be inspected. The competing squads were hit almost as soon as they finished their recon phase. They were hit by the possible probes by the aggressors. At the strike of dawn, the final phase of the competition was under way.

This phase, according to the competition rules, was the most difficult to take. The squads were seen at the live fire area. 10th Marines Crushed 26-6

Recon FMFLant Champion

By LCpl. Peter Moylan

Rick Haddocks passed and ran for 201 yards and three touchdowns to lead Reconnaissance Battalion to a 26-6 victory over the 10th Marines for the Fleet Marine Force Atlantic (FMFLant) football championship here Dec. 9.

A crowd of over 400, including Major General Ormond R. Simpson, Commanding General of the 2d Marine Division, and Brigadier General John G. Bouker, Commanding General of Force Troops, saw Recon stop the 10th Marines for the second time in three weeks. Recon whipped the artillery regiment 27-6 for the base championship Nov. 26.

Haddocks ran for 165 yards in 16 carries and completed two passes in two attempts for 36 yards as the unbeaten, united Recon team won its ninth game of the season.

Recon scored the first time they had the ball as the 10th Marines lost the ball on downs at midfield.

On Recon's first play from scrimmage, Jim Griffen was interfered with on a pass play at the 10th Marines' 12 yard line, giving them a first down.

Haddocks picked up another first down inches short of the goal line, then plunged over on the next play. Ed Foley added the extra point and Recon was ahead 7-0.

Unable to move the ball after receiving Recon's kick, the 10th Marines were forced to punt. Doug Perry's 42-yard punt was returned 26 yards by Larry Wood to the 10th Marines' 34.

Haddocks picked up 19 of 20 yards in the ensuing drive, giving Recon a first down at the 10th Marines' five yard line. A holding penalty, however, cost them 15 yards as the first quarter ended.

Another pass interference penalty against the "cannon-cockers", this time in the end zone, gave Recon a first down at the one yard line. An off-sides penalty then pushed Recon back to the six.

In two carries Glen Gagner made it to the four and then Haddocks swept his own right end on third down for the touchdown. Steve Yancha blocked Foley's conversion at tempt and Recon led 13-0.

The 10th Marines battled back with their only sustained drive of the game, covering 58 yards on the 80-yard field in eight plays for their only score.

Tim Verstege's 13-yard scoring pass to halfback Rob Rodgers climaxed the drive which saw the artillery regiment pick up three of their six first downs.

Recon came right back with their third touchdown as Haddocks hit Wood with a 31-yard pass and carried another 31 yards for the score on the next play. Sam Mazutis deflected Foley's conversion attempt and Recon led 13-0.

The 10th Marines were able to hold the champs' offense in the second half, but were unable to move the ball against the league's stingiest defense.

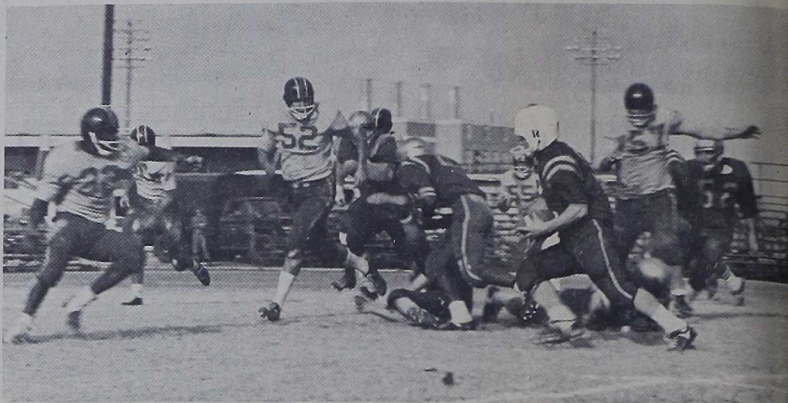

Recon, however, was able to penetrate the 10th Marines' defense for another score only two plays from the end of the game.

Taking over on downs, Recon came up with a first down at the 10th Marines' 15 on Haddocks' 18-yard jaunt. Wood carried for six more and Ernest Henry swept left end for nine yards and the final score of the game.

Foley added the extra point, making the final count 26-6. Recon missed three excellent opportunities to score, twice in the second half.

In the first half, Recon had a first-and-goal from the 10th Marines' 10 yard line, but a low snap from center to tailback Larry Wood cost Recon a loss of 15 yards on the play. The half ended on the next play.

In the early stages of the third quarter, Recon had a first-and-goal from the one yard line. Gagner tried two plunges through the 10th Marines' line, but was stopped both times. On third down, the center snap was low, and the ball rolled to the 19 yard line where Recon's Foley fell on it.

Haddocks picked up 10 yards before the ball went over to 10th Marines on downs.

Later in the quarter, Rick Serman intercepted a Verstege pass at the 35 of Recon and returned it 17 yards to the 29 of the 10th Marines.

Wood carried twice to the two yard line, but on fourth-and-three from the four, a high snap from center gave the ball to the 10th Marines at the 23 yard line, thwarting another Recon drive.

Recon lost a total of 72 yards on four bad snaps from center. Wood lost 34 yards and Foley 38 recovering loose footballs. However, Recon was still able to amass 208 yards rushing.

Once again, the Recon defense proved too much for its opponent, holding the 10th Marine to 125 yards, 63 in the air and 62 on the ground. Verstege, the 10th Marines' quarterback, completed only five of 20 passes trying to escape the opponent's rush.

Penalties also hurt the 10th Marines, as the two pass interference penalties set up Recon's first two scores. In all the 10th Marines were penalized 95 yards.

Intramural Cage League Outlined

Camp Lejeune's Intramural Basketball season begins January 9, with two leagues fielding a total of 18 teams.

Games will be played Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday nights at a variety of gymnasiums around the Base. There will be four games each night played in two gyms. Starting times will be 6 and 8 p. m.

Rules will be those of the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

In the absence of a varsity basketball team at Camp Lejeune this season, all personnel are eligible to participate.

The American League will be supported financially by 2d Marine Division Special Services and the National League will be backed by Base Special Services. Overall coordinator will be the Base Athletic Officer, Captain H. D. Doss.

A protest committee will consist of the Base Athletic Officer and Athletic Chief and the Division Athletic Officer and Chief.

The American League will be composed of the following teams: Headquarters Bn., 2d Marine Division; Service Battalion, 2d Division; Engineer Bn., 2d Division; Headquarters and Service Bn., MCB; 1st ITR, MCB; Marine Corps Supply Schools, MCB; Marine Corps Engineer Schools, MCB; 1st Bn., 6th Marines; and 3rd Bn., 6th Marines.

National League teams will be 2d Anti-Tank Bn.; 2d Reconnaissance Bn.; 2d Medical Bn.; Headquarters Co., 10th Marines; Rifle Range, MCB; U. S. Naval Hospital; Base Material Bn., MCB; 2d Shore Party Battalion; and Headquarters Co., 6th Marines.

Boxer Profile

When Camp Lejeune's Boxing Team goes into the ring against another team, Marine hopes in the heavyweight division will rest on the broad shoulders of Charley Dwyer.

The 6-3, 205 pounder is boxing his third season at Camp Lejeune and is a veteran of 43 fights. He calls Newport, Rhode Island, his home.

When he's not boxing, Dwyer is a sergeant in Support Company, 2d Engineer Battalion. By trade, he's a carpenter.

Charley started boxing in 19 because it "presented a challenge." In 1965, he was runner up in the Okinawa Inter-Services Championships. He lost the title fight by decision.

"I like the thrill of winning a match and the satisfaction it brings," he says. More qualified judges and referees would help the sport, he feels.

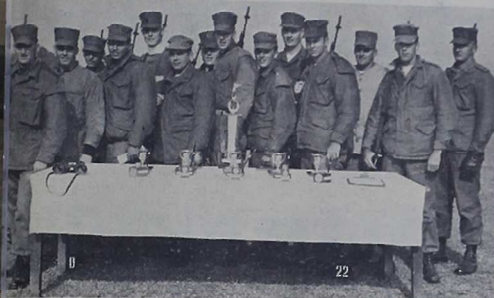

Dwyer joined the Marine Corps in 1963 and has since served in Okinawa, Japan, and Vietnam. He has earned a good conduct medal and has avoided the ball and chain marriage.

Range Coaches Hold Shootoff

Last Monday Camp Lejeune's Rifle Range ended its season with a demonstration of marksmanship at its finest as Marines from the Quad-Command participated in the Coaches Invitational-Intramural Match. Over one hundred Marines entered the "C" Course in an attempt to discover the best shot at the Base. Almost 20 percent of the shooters fired a possible 25 from the 200 yard sitting position, demonstrating the high level of competition. The first aggregate trophy was awarded to Corporal G. M. Finklea, Marksmanship Training Unit, 2d Marine Division, who fired a 185 for the course. Receiving the second place trophy was Corporal V. A. Okeson, Marine Aircraft Group-26 who also received trophies for winning the 200 kneeling and 300 prone positions.

The third place Aggregate trophy was presented to Corporal A. T. Sorrells, Marksmanship Training Unit, who also won the 200 offhand position. Corporal J. P. Curran, Marksmanship Training Unit took the 200 sitting while the 500 prone was won by Sergeant J. E. Stokes, Marksmanship Training Unit.

Devilpup Accuracy Downs Dixon 69-67

Camp Lejeune's Devilpups enjoyed a red-hot second period last Friday night, pouring in 24 points in the eight minutes, then held on to salvage a 69-67 victory over Dixon. All five of Coach John Griffin's starters scored in double figures as the Devilpups presented a balanced attack. Lejeune was trailing 20-15 at the end of the first quarter, but surged to a 39-32 halftime lead as they shot a torrid 77 per cent from the field during the second stanza. The Devilpups recorded a 55 percent mark for the entire contest. The difference in the contest, however, was decided at the foul line. The Devilpups fired in 11 of 17 shots, while Dixon hit only seven of 19 free tosses. "We played a good game. We had good defense and good rebounding," said Griffin. Lane Argetsinger paced the D'pups with 17 points. Rick Gutekunst added 15, Ronnie Caves 13, and guards David Ogle and Terry Berglund each had 11. Defensive ace John Winchester scored 2 points. Argetsinger and Caves also topped Lejeune in rebounding, each boy snaring seven. Dennis Price led Dixon with 24 points on 12 fieldgoals. Price missed seven free throws. Also in double figures for the visitors were Jim Yopp with 14 and Sammy Brantley with 10. The Devilpups play at home tonight against Jasper. The varsity boys' contest will follow the girls' game which begins at 7 p. m.

CLHS Girl Cagers Nip Dixon 26-25

The Girls Varsity Basketball Team of Camp Lejeune High School won their first game last Friday night when they defeated the girls from Dixon 26-25. Camp Lejeune led by a wide margin until the last few minutes of the game when Dixon found the range against the Lejeune reserves and almost pulled the game out. Judy Givens, team captain, led the Lejeune scoring with 10 points, but injured her knee and will be out for several weeks. Judy Waldrop added 6 points, Phyllis Lemoine 8, Gloria Lazarus 1, and Alice Vom Orde 1.

Turkey Shoot

Camp Lejeune's Red and Gun Club will hold a Turkey Shoot this Sunday at the Holcomb School beginning at 10 a.m. Shotguns and ammunition will be furnished. Privately-owned shotguns may be used. There will be a charge of $1 per shot.

Devils Lose To Swansboro, Dixon

Camp Lejeune High School's Junior Varsity basketball team started their 1966-67 season by losing a pair of heartbreakers to Swansboro 40-35 and to Dixon 56-54. Against Swansboro the contest was close all the way. The Devils lost late in the game, but a series of ball-handling errors gave the Pirates a chance to regain the lead. Against Dixon, the Devilpups were behind by eight in the first half, trailed by one at halftime, but came back to lead by six in the final period. Then Dixon rallied, and with 9 seconds the score was tied 44-44. A bad pass again doomed the D'pups, as a Dixon player scooped up the ball and raced for a layup.

Boxers To Battle PhibLant Tonight

Tonight in Goettge Fieldhouse there will be an art exhibit. The subject will be an art form that dates back to the ancient Greeks and Romans and probably beyond them to prehistoric man. It is an art form that should especially appeal to Marines, with their long tradition as aggressive fighters. The art form is pugilism, the science of fistcuffs, and Camp Lejeune's Boxing Team should provide a first class demonstration with the help of a strong team from Naval Amphibian Base, Little Creek, Va. Scheduled to begin at 7:30 p. m., the match will be the Marines' last home showing before the New Year.

The Marines considered highly controversial.

This year's PhibLant team boasts several All-Navy boxers, and Lejeune Coach J. C. Davis has promised to send his best fighters into the ring.

All the Marine boxers will be ready to step into the ring except Neal Taylor, who is in the hospital for repair of a hernia.

Accompanying the Navy team will be Richard Pettigrew, a 200-pound heavyweight who has been All-Navy many times and is currently CISM champion. Whether Pettigrew will fight or not had not been decided at press time.

Also on the PhibLant team are Morris Harris (132), Vince Fagan (164), and Sam Ewell (125). Ewell and Harris are Camp Lejeune will counter with All-Marines Art Redden, (178), Billy Jenkins (156), Robert Lozada (132), Charlie Davis (125), and Art Lieb (112).

Lieb

Redden is also a CISM champion.

Most of the other Marine boxers own an impressive list of Golden Gloves and service titles while reports indicate PhibLant's team, outside of its All-Navy Champions, is largely composed of novice fighters.

With plenty of rivalry between PhibLant and Camp Lejeune, it should be a great evening of "art." Come out and see it. Admission is free and the public is invited.

Coach Davis' boxers will fight at a YMCA tournament in Winston-Salem December 23, and then lay off until January 7 when they return to the friendly confines of Goettge Fieldhouse to battle Lorton Youth Center.

"There's no place like home for the Holidays,"...no other statement could be any truer. However, all of us will not be able to make it home for the Holidays this year.

Taking this thought into consideration, the Tournament Committee of the Camp Lejeune Bowlers Club held a meeting this past Tuesday and formulated a Holiday Tournament which will be held here from Saturday December 17, 1966 through Sunday January 8, 1967.

This tournament will be a "No-Tap" tournament, and is designed to afford all military personnel and their dependents an opportunity to bowl in tournament play over the holiday period.

This tournament is open to all men and women whether or not you are now bowling in a sanctioned league. There are two separate divisions, one for men and one for women.

For those of you who are not familiar with just what a "No-Tap" Tournament is, it is one in which you are awarded a strike for knocking down nine or more pins on your first ball. If you leave eight or more pins standing after your first ball, you must shoot for your spare.

Entry fee for the tournament is $2 per entry, and you may enter as many times as you wish.

The top eight bowlers will bowl a three game roll off on Saturday January 14, 1967 to determine the final outcome. Prizes will be awarded to all eight qualifiers.

To make the tournament a little more interesting, prizes will be awarded each week to the top two bowlers for that week.

The tournament will be run each weekday night, and all day on Saturdays and Sundays, except on Christmas and New Years Eve and New Years Day.

Everybody has a chance to win this one, so come on out and give it a try. Who knows, perhaps even you may win!

On the league bowling scene this week, the action was at its best.

Kathy Cutshall of the Tuesday Morning Women's League rolled a fine 590 series including games of 212 and 205. Becky Stephens of the same league rolled a 563 series with a high game of 204.

In the MCB Intramural Bowling League, Bill Burnette was "Top Cat" with his 624 series, which included games of 211, 209, and 204. John Matson rolled a 603 series with a high game of 228.

The Scratch Doubles League was led this week by Roque Tomayo's 620 series and 237 game. Lloyd James rolled a 604 series and Joe Gaddi a 590 series for the same league.

Marion Salsar led the Officers Wives League with her 573 series and two 209 games, these were the first 200-plus games Marion ever rolled. Cliff Burke rolled a 620 series with games of 216, 204, and 200 for the Early Bird Mixed League.

That's bowling for this week. Till next week, Good Luck and Good Bowling.

MOVIE REVIEWS

 izarre and gruesome touches as one might expect from the author of "Psycho" are supplied by writer himself, Robert Bloch. A new original screen play he calls "Psychopath." Essentially, it is the type of mystery in which the audience is invited to guess along with the stalwart police inspector, who is seeking the suspect behind a series of murders. There is one drawback, the lack of a single star name. The movie was made in England by two American producers, who previously completed "The Skull" and "Dr. Terror's House of Horrors" there. This one is easily the best of the three. It stars Patrick Wymark, Margaret Johnstone, John Standing and several others.

THE LIQUIDATOR
 od Taylor, Trevor Howard and St. John head the cast in "The Liquidator." In this story the producers went one step further than the average spy scoop, by observing British Intelligence unit, without own government's knowledge, then carrying out the execution of a security risk. They could have handled "The Liquidator" with deadly seriousness. This would have made it a chilling tale, but it might also have brought down a barrage of moral protests. Instead, we find a tongue-in-cheek spy take that few will take too seriously, but many are sure to enjoy.

THE WAR LORD
 Charleston Heston, Richard Boone, and Rosemary Forsyth star in an action packed period drama. Romance plays a greater part than usual. As is usual in such films the production values set forth in color and Panavision, are spectacular, with close attention paid to recreation of all phases of the 11th century setting, from a medieval village to the elaborate costuming. The plot comes from a play by Leslie Stevens called "The Lovers" and revolves around a pagan custom of the time which permitted a village ruler to take to his bed a virgin bride on her wedding night. The next day he must relinquish her to the bridegroom. It co-stars Maurice Evans and Guy Stockwell.

ROSENFELD

Col. Rosenfeld will leave his present billet as Commanding Officer, 8th Motor Transport Battalion, Force Troops, FMFLant in January of 1967 to assume his new duties at Camp Garcia.

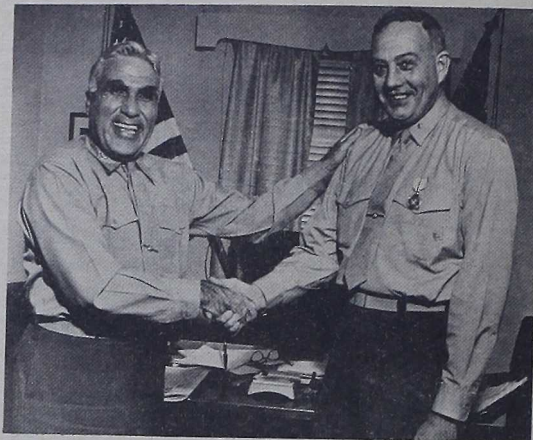

The Colonel enlisted in the Marine Corps in 1942 and after eight years of enlisted service was commissioned a Second Lieutenant.

After numerous assignments with the First and Second Marine Divisions and a tour as an Advisor in Taiwan, Col. Rosenfeld became Battalion Commanding Officer of the 8th Motor Transport Battalion in October of 1965.

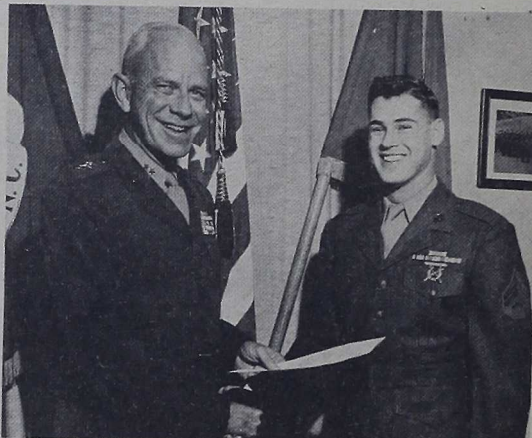

During his 25 years in the Marine Corps Col. Rosenfeld has been presented the Distinguished Flying Cross, the Bronze Star with Combat "V," the Air Medal with four stars, the Navy Unit Commendation and numerous campaign and service decorations.

CHRISTMAS SEALS

Disbursing Officer Lauded For Job

Second Lieutenant John Valentino, for his outstanding performance as an Assistant Disbursing Officer of the 1st Marine Division, Fleet Marine Force, Pacific, was awarded the Secretary of the Navy Commendation Award. It was presented to him by his Commanding Officer, Captain Jacob E. Libbey of Headquarters Company, Force Troops, Fleet Marine Force, Atlantic.

Executing his demanding and exacting duties, he contributed greatly to two very successful displacements to Okinawa and to Vietnam. Forming highly efficient disbursing teams to accompany the Special Landing Force of the 1st Marine Division, was another example of his professionalism.

The Marine's ability, selfless devotion to duty, and perseverance under strenuous conditions was rewarding. Now authorized to wear the Navy Commendation Ribbon, he reflects great credit upon himself and the Marine Corps.

Sgt. Wins Freedoms Award

Sergeant D. C. Evans, H&S Co., First Infantry Training Regiment was awarded a plaque by the Freedoms' Foundation of Valley Forge; a patriotic organization which promotes the American way of life.

The plaque was presented to the Sergeant during informal ceremonies in the Office of Major General Ormond R. Simpson, Commanding General, Marine Corps Base and 2d Marine Division.

The award resulted from a letter the Sergeant wrote to the editor of the Manchester, New Hampshire, Union Leader.

While a corporal in Vietnam, the Sergeant read of the activities of draft dodgers and Anti-Vietnam demonstrators. He then wrote the award-receiving letter.

His letter reads in part, "We are getting sick of having them (demonstrators) complain... if they are not willing to fight for their country, they don't belong in the USA."

Sergeant Evans was awarded the coveted honor... for outstanding achievement in bringing about a better understanding of the American way of life during 1965."

2d AT Chief Wins Medal

Chief Hospital Corpsman Thomas P. Bailey was awarded the Navy Commendation Medal with combat "V".

Chief Bailey was cited for actions on Sept. 5, while serving with the 3rd Tank Battalion, 3rd Marine Division, Vietnam.

Early in the morning of Sept. 5th, the battalion's command post, located about six miles south of the city of Da Nang was attacked by a Viet Cong force of undetermined strength.

The insurgents launched mortar barrage that lasted three hours.

During the course of the action, the battalion's executive officer was seriously wounded. Chief Bailey, although wounded himself, was credited with saving the officer's life by getting him successfully evacuated to a field hospital.

HMC Bailey said he was asleep when the whole thing started, but his rest didn't last very long.

"My tent was located close to the combat operations center, where the main concentration of the rounds was coming in. I woke up as soon as the first few landed and went to see what I could do."

Bailey was attending to a wounded Marine, when he was hit himself.

"I picked up some shrapnel in the wrist. It wasn't bad, I kept on working."

HMC Bailey, now serving as a member of the 2d Anti-Tank Battalion, was awarded the medal by Lieutenant Colonel E. R. Laine, battalion commander.
