$120,000 Pier Success After Lumber Delay

After weathering a five-month storm of delays, long-awaited "Riseley Pier" opens Sunday morning with an "open house" celebration beginning at 8 a.m. and lasting until dark. Camp Lejeune Marines, their families and guests, will get their first look at the giant fishing dock, under construction a mile and a half south of the enlisted men's beach house at Onslow Beach since last May.

The 850-foot pier, to be named in honor of retired Lt. Gen. James P. Riseley, former Base commander, was hampered by many problems, including a shortage of the type of lumber used in pier construction. Originally, it was due for completion last September.

Free First Day

Admission to the pier will be free for the opening day festivities. The Exchange snack bar, tackle and bait shop will be open throughout the day.

Beginning Monday, the $120,000 structure will be open from 8 a.m. until midnight every day of the week. When warmer weather moves into the Carolinas, the pier will remain open around the clock.

Actual dedication of the pier is scheduled sometime in April, according to Pier Manager Robert G. McIntyre. General Riseley will travel from his New Mexico home to be present for the ceremony. A bronze-lettered plaque will be posted on the pier; the inscription reading: "Riseley Pier, Named In Honor of James P. Riseley, Lt. Gen., USMC, Retired, An Avid Sportsman"; the dedication date currently pending.

Admission to the pier after Sunday will cost 40 cents for a 24-hour ticket. The weekly rate is $1.50. Monthly tickets cost $4. Rental tackle will be available for 25 cents.

Division To Honor Atlantic Fleet Chief Admiral Wright

Adm. Jerauld Wright, commander-in-chief, Atlantic, and U. S. Atlantic Fleet, will be honored by the 2nd Marine Division with a parade and review at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday on the Camp parade ground. In making an official one-day visit to the Fleet Marine Force unit, Admiral Wright will serve as the reviewing officer for the parade.

He will receive a 17-gun salute. Division troops will be joined by three battalions from Force Troops. During the march in review, troop units and their respective commanders will be identified by an announcer. The ceremonies include the reading of a brief military biography of Admiral Wright.

Families, guests and local citizens are invited to attend.

Admiral Wright also is the Supreme Allied Commander, Atlantic, of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO). Headquarters for both the NATO and the U. S. Commands are side by side in Norfolk, Va.

As Supreme Allied Commander, Atlantic, Admiral Wright is responsible to NATO for the defense of the Atlantic north of the Tropic of Cancer between Europe and the United States. At his Norfolk headquarters, the admiral heads a 140-member international staff of officers from NATO commands who contribute forces or resources.

In his U. S. national capacity, Admiral Wright commands the Atlantic Fleet which presently consists of about 500 ships, 230,000 men and 1,000 Naval aircraft. He is responsible to the United States for the defense of the sea areas of the Atlantic and for the defense of the United States against attack from the seas.

Admiral Wright, who was born in Amherst, Mass., June 4, 1893, is one of the six four-star admirals currently serving in the U. S. Navy. He graduated from the Naval Academy at the age of 19.

Fitness Report Tightened For Corps Officers

The Commandant of the Marine Corps last week issued an order tightening up officer fitness report procedures.

Effective Feb. 15, under terms of an ALMAR issued Feb. 1, reporting seniors will not refer completed fitness reports to officers reported on, except in cases where the report contains material "considered as unsatisfactory."

Other major provisions of the ALMAR are:

An outstanding or unsatisfactory mark in Section 16a (regular duties) or Section 19 (general value to the service) will be justified under Section "D" in the space reserved for the reporting senior's handwritten remarks.

Reporting seniors will also record in Section "D" the total number of officers of the same rank reported on for the same reporting occasion, and will indicate the number marked outstanding, excellent, above average, etc., under the item, "general value to the service."

Purpose of the ALMAR is to bring about more realistic and equitable officer fitness report markings.

Legal Holiday

Holiday routine will prevail throughout the Quad-Command area Monday, Feb. 22, in honor of George Washington's birthday. Commencing at 12 noon, a national salute of 21 guns will be fired in honor of the first President of the United States.

Range Opens March 5 For 1960 Season

The Rifle Range will open the 1960 firing season on March 5 with newly landscaped ranges, a completely re-wired communications system and new butts on the .45 range. Lt. Col. Robert M. Calland, formerly of the Marksmanship Training Unit at San Diego, has recently assumed command of the Rifle Range Detachment.

Low spots have been filled in on all of the ranges and drainage ditches have been re-filled. The maintenance section is now in the process of re-seeding range areas.

New Communications

An entirely new communications system has been installed with five wing phones on each line to enable the shooter to speak directly to the butts. New butts have also been added to the .45 pistol range and a concrete dividing wall has been placed between the 50 yard and 15-25 yard range.

Testing Cycle For E-5, E-6 Is Authorized

Promotion tests will be administered to personnel in pay grades E-5 and E-6 during March and April. Technical tests for E-5 and E-6 personnel in MOS's 0741, 0761, and 7141 are waived for the 60-2 testing period.

In the primary cycle, GMST-1960-Primary (Male) and GMST-1960-Primary (Women) will be administered March 21. Primary technical tests will be given March 22.

The alternate cycle of GMST tests will be held April 11 and the technical tests will be administered April 12.

If eligible personnel are not afforded the opportunity to take promotion tests on the regularly scheduled testing dates, a report of their cases will be forwarded to the Commandant of the Marine Corps for appropriate action. Late administration of promotion tests will not be authorized after June 30.

The service records of all personnel joining a command will be screened prior to June 30 to determine their promotion testing status.

Further details may be found in Marine Corps Order 1418.10.

The promotion testing announcement came as a surprise to most Camp Lejeune staff NCO's since the last E-5 and E-6 examinations were conducted during summer months. The tests, however, are scheduled for administering periodically by Headquarters Marine Corps.

First Warrant Officer Course To Convene

As part of a new concept designed to encourage career advancement, Quantico will convene this month the initial Warrant Officer Candidate Course of the Marine Corps.

The program was established for corporals (E-4) and above with six through eight years of service to afford the NCOs the opportunity for selection to warrant officer early in their careers. The course will convene annually.

Replacing the system of appointing warrant officers by selection, board only, the program will also accept NCOs with more than eight years service provided their commanding officers endorse them as exceptional candidates.

Selections for warrant officer will be made primarily on the basis of an individual's demonstrated and measured growth potential or aptitude to serve as a warrant officer in authorized technical fields.

Nine major subjects will be taught including map reading, Marine Corps history, physical conditioning, principles of leadership, drill and command, infantry weapons, small unit tactics, military law and general subjects.

Upon completion of the six-week course selectees will be commissioned as warrant officers and sent to Basic School for an additional 10-week instruction designed to familiarize them with the duties of company grade officers.

After completing both courses of instruction, the warrant officers will be assigned command billets in accordance with their previous Military Occupational Specialties.

Artistic Temperament Helps Platoon Sergeant's Duties

A sergeant is building a ship in Barracks 212; a three-masted schooner at that. How will the sergeant launch the ship? Will the barracks have to be torn down? Will the sergeant automatically be promoted to captain as befitting a sailing master? Or will he be demoted when the commanding officer gets the word? The answer to all these questions is no! For the ship is a model and is only three feet long.

The shipbuilder, Act. SSgt. Raymond F. Chanette, a platoon sergeant in Delta Co., 1st Bn., Second Marines, has been working on the model in his spare time during the past two weeks.

The gleaming, four-color scale model, a replica of the original Sark, is complete except for the topside rigging and the sails. Sergeant Chanette figures it will take him about 15 or 20 hours to finish these painstaking details.

233 Pieces

The Cutty Sark kit comes broken down into 233 pieces and features movable boat davits, rudder and wheel, bilge pump controls, hatch covers, and belaying pins.

The original Cutty Sark was built in Scotland and sailed between the Old World and the New in the 1830's. Sergeant Chanette remarked that due to her tremendous sail spread, she was capable of over 17 knots and was the speed queen of her day. She once sailed 3,547 miles in 11 days and is the world's last Clipper Ship. She is now berthed in London as a sea shrine.

What does Sergeant Chanette do with the ship models? He sends them to his seven-year-old nephew, Roger Laferrier.

One does not usually associate the temperament of a platoon sergeant with that of an artist, but, on close examination, the two have much in common.

Both require a great deal of knowledge, skill, patience and a keen understanding of human nature. Sergeant Chanette combines the two qualities admirably. The six-foot, 185-pound Marine is modest concerning his many accomplishments and gives the impression that he chooses his words carefully before he speaks.

By day he molds a mixture of military skills, discipline, leadership, and men into a first-class fighting machine, the amphibious Marine.

Guadalcanal Service

Sergeant Chanette began his model building, sketching and painting while still in grade school in Worcester, Mass. After graduating from Commerce High School there, he entered the Navy in August of 1942. As a Corpsman, he was attached to the 1st Marine Division on Guadalcanal and made every landing thereafter through Okinawa as the 1st Division fought its way up the island chain.

During the fierce initial assault on Peleliu, Chanette was awarded the Purple Heart and Silver Star for his actions against the enemy.

Discharged at the close of WW II, Sergeant Chanette designed and painted posters and billboards for outdoor advertising concerns.

Deciding to make the military his career, Chanette enlisted in the Marines and during 1948-51 served at Marine Barracks, Guantanamo Bay, Cuba.

He fought in three battles with the First Marines in Korea before being assigned to Marine Barracks, Subic Bay, Philippine Islands. In 1954, Chanette came to Camp Lejeune and with the exception of cruises in the Mediterranean has been stationed here ever since.

Act. SSgt. Chanette is currently attending the Special Air Tactical Control Course at Norfolk, Va. Upon completing the two-week course, he will return to Camp Lejeune to await further assignment.

SHIP AHOY—Act. SSgt. Raymond F. Chanette of Delta Co., Second Marines, installs mainmast rigging on his model Cutty Sark. Built in his spare time, the model is a replica of the original Cutty Sark that was the fastest and the world's last Clipper ship. The sergeant sends his completed models to his seven-year-old nephew in Worcester, Mass.

Marine Band Will Play For The Olympics

The Marine Band will represent the United States at the VIII Winter Olympic Games opening at Squaw Valley, California, Feb. 18.

Under auspices of the Olympic Committee, the band will participate in opening day ceremonies at which either President Eisenhower or Vice President Nixon will be present.

The band, under the baton of its director, Lt. Col. Albert Schoepfer, will play honors for the President or Vice President on arrival. As the athletes enter the arena, the band will play "The Parade of the Olympians."

Performing as host band for the duration of the 10-day games, the Marines will present a daily open air concert featuring international music. Each day's events will be concluded with a Marine band rendition of the national anthem of the winning team.

Lt. Col. Schoepfer, Capt. James King, assistant director, and 62 members of the band will make the trip to California.

The public is invited to attend and may purchase tickets from the Jacksonville Chamber of Commerce.

Three Of A Kind Serve On Rolls Of Tri-Command Units

Off-duty hours, baby sitting, dish washing, and other household chores are a family affair for three Camp Lejeune Marines. They are three married brothers, Pfc. Morris P., and Sgts. William L. and Leon E. Daniels, assigned to Division, Force Troops, and Air Facility, respectively. Morris, the youngest of the trio, was the last of the Daniels to enlist in the Corps. A fourth brother, Jack P., was discharged from the Corps in September, 1951, after a four-year enlistment which included duty in Korea.

When Morris reported aboard the Base from Japan recently for duty, William and Leon were on hand to greet him. It was like coming to a family reunion since the three brothers' wives were also here.

Morris and his wife, Kathryn, William and his wife, Marie, live together in their mobile home at lot 641, Knox Trailer Park. Leon and his wife, Patsy, live at 1017 MEMQ, New River Air Facility.

Liberty nights usually find the brothers and their wives getting together at the Knox home of Morris and William or at the quarters of Leon. Some weekends, the three families load into one car for the short trip home. Their parents, Mr. and Mrs. William M. Daniels live at Galivants Ferry, S. C., about 148 miles from Camp Lejeune.

Integration Plan For Junior Law Officers Is Announced

A special program for integration of junior Reserve officer lawyers into the regular Marine Corps is now under way, Headquarters Marine Corps announced. The new program is part of an overall plan aimed at providing the Marine Corps, on a permanent basis, with an adequate number of officer lawyers. Eligible to apply for integration under terms of MCO 1120.12, which was signed this week, are permanent Reserve captains and lieutenants on active or inactive duty who meet the following qualifications:

- (1) Have an MOS of 0185 (Trial Defense Counsel Officer) or 0195 (Law Officer), or meet the requirements for either MOS.
- (2) Hold a law degree from an accredited university.
- (3) Have passed the bar examination and be certified for practice before the highest court in resident state.
- (4) Be junior to Maj. James S. Hecker, No. 2,189 on the combined lineal list of Jan. 1, 1959 (to be computed constructively in the case of officers on inactive duty).
- (5) Be physically qualified.

A selection board convened by the Secretary of the Navy will meet at HQMC in April to consider applicants for integration. Applications must reach the Commandant of the Marine Corps (Code DPB) not later than April 1, 1960. The board is expected to be authorized to select about 60 officers for integration.

All applications must be submitted via commanding officers, the Director of Marine Air Reserve Training, or Directors of Marine Corps Reserve or Recruitment Districts, as appropriate.

Commanding officers in the regular establishment having Special Court Martial authority, the Director of Marine Air Reserve Training, and District Directors will convene special interview boards to evaluate applicants for integration. Evaluation reports will accompany each application.

Officers integrated under the terms of this program will be given primary MOS's, will be assigned to legal duties on a continuing basis, and will serve in equal status with other unrestricted officers in all respects, including equal opportunity for promotion. Integration will be accomplished without loss of date of rank or lineal precedence.

Retired Personnel

All retired service personnel living in the Jacksonville area are requested to contact the Camp Lejeune telephone office so that information may be included in the new telephone directory to be published during the first part of March. Personnel may either call 7-5313 or notify the telephone office by mail of their name, rank, address, phone number and service component.

Important Duty Every Night Slated For Some E-5's, E-6's

Wives of acting staff sergeants and acting gunnery sergeants who find themselves watching television alone during evening hours for the next few weeks can probably attribute their husbands' absence to a particular duty. In sharp contrast to routine duties such as commander of the guard and other duty watches, this duty will put more food on the table and more clothing in the family closets if the duty is performed to the hilt.

The duty is to study and to prepare for E-5 and E-6 promotion tests which are scheduled to be administered during March and April. Technical tests for E-5 and E-6 personnel in MOS's 0741, 0761, and 7141 are waived for the 60-2 testing period.

In the primary cycle, GMST-1960-Primary (Male) and GMST-1960-Primary (Women) will be administered March 21. Primary technical tests will be given March 22.

The alternate cycle of GMST tests will be held April 11 and the technical tests will be administered April 12.

If eligible personnel are not afforded the opportunity to take promotion tests on the regularly scheduled testing dates, a report of their cases will be forwarded to the Commandant of the Marine Corps for appropriate action. Late administration of promotion tests will not be authorized after June 30, 1960.

The service records of all personnel joining a command will be screened prior to June 30 to determine their promotion testing status.

Further details may be found in Marine Corps Order 1418.10.

The promotion testing announcement came as surprise to most Camp Lejeune staff NCO's since the last E-5 and E-6 examinations were conducted during summer months. The tests, however, are scheduled for administering periodically by Headquarters Marine Corps.

Medicare Changes Reproduced Here

Thirty-three thousand fact sheets about the Medicare Program for Dependents rolled off the presses at the Base Printing Plant this week and are now being distributed to all Camp Lejeune units. The fact sheets, consisting of about 15 pages each in pamphlet form, were reproduced locally

Applications Sought From Career NCO's

The proverbial "Behind every successful man is a good woman," may well apply to some wives of Camp Lejeune Marines who urge their husbands to apply for appointment to the unrestricted commissioned officer ranks in the Marine Corps Reserve.

Career non-commissioned officers on active duty in pay grade E-4 or above may submit applications to be considered for the program in accordance with Marine Corps Order 1040.9A.

This program is intended for career Marines who can be more profitably utilized in the unrestricted officer structure and who have exhibited the qualities and possess the growth potential necessary to compete in the unrestricted officer ranks.

Personnel who are selected will attend a 10-week course, generally convening in March and September at the Marine Corps Schools at Quantico.

Applicants

Applicants must meet the following requirements: Be a citizen of the United States; be of unquestioned moral integrity and have an exemplary record of conduct; be physically qualified for (See GOLD BARS, Page 12)

Garden Plots

Several garden plots at Piney Green are available for use by military personnel. Those desiring garden space should stake-off the area desired (100x 40 feet maximum) and then register their area with Mrs. Sylvia Perkins at the Quarters And Housing Office, Bldg. TT-43, Tarawa Terrace. A free leaflet, "Recommended Vegetable Variety," is available at the office for the asking.

from a copy published by the Department of Defense. Changes in the Medicare Program, which became effective Jan. 1, resulting from the restoration of certain care eliminated from the program on Oct. 1, 1958, are outlined in the fact sheets. It also reviews the Medicare Program as a whole, reflecting other changes made since it went into effect on Dec. 7, 1956.

Program Explained

Eligibility requirements for care from both civilian and uniformed service sources are covered in the fact sheets. Other information in the sheets explain the program in regards to dependents residing apart and with their sponsors, civilian care provided, surgical services, acute emotional disorders, cost, pre- and post-hospitalization tests and procedures.

Department of Defense officials said the fact sheets concern all active duty members of the Uniformed Services and their dependents. It was suggested that military members study the important documents carefully and then pass them on to their dependents for retention.

Already Printed

Capt. John Ronsvale, officer in charge of the Base Printing Plant, revealed that the mass printing order was completed before GLOBE presstime. Mr. Bruce L. Smith, Base Central Files supervisor, reported that the fact sheets are being distributed to all units for further dissemination to married military personnel. Commanders have been requested to distribute the fact sheets as promptly as possible.

Legal Holiday Is Proclaimed

Camp Schools will be closed for a legal holiday Monday, Feb. 22, in honor of George Washington's birthday. School will resume as usual, for all grades, Tuesday, Feb. 23.

In observance of the holiday, the Base Commissary Store will be closed Saturday, Feb. 20, as well as Sunday, Feb. 21, and Monday, Feb. 22. Sales will resume as usual on Tuesday, Feb. 23.

Power Cut-Off

There will be an electrical power cut-off during the hours of 5 to 8 p.m., Feb. 21, due to the installation of new equipment. The areas to be affected are all of Camp Lejeune except Tarawa Terrace, Camp Geiger, Geiger Trailer Park and the Marine Corps Air Facility. This power cut-off will include the U. S. Naval Hospital.

Military Sweetheart Ball Set For Saturday

Pomp and circumstance will reign Saturday evening at the Paradise Point Club as officers and their ladies go through the paces of an old-fashioned cotillion at the Military Sweetheart Ball. The Officers Wives Club-sponsored formal dance will begin in all its finery at 8 p.m. as the Vagabonds provide romantic music for the occasion.

Promptly at 9 p.m., the cotillion, danced by a selected group of couples, will be formed. Maj. Gen. and Mrs. James P. Berkeley, Brig. Gen. and Mrs. Sidney S. Wade, Brig. Gen. and Mrs. Odell M. Conoley, Mrs. J. O. Butcher, OWC president, and Col. Butcher complete the receiving line.

Reservations both for the dance and for the dinner which will precede it, close today and may be made by calling the Paradise Point Club at Ext. 6-6188. Roast beef au jus, at a cost of $2.50 per person, will be featured as the main dish of the evening. Dinner will begin at 6 p.m.

GIVE FOR HEALTH AND JOINT CRUSADE

ONLY ONE WEEK LEFT—In the 1960 Federal Service Campaign for the support of National Health and International Relationship Agencies. The drive will end Feb. 19. To date, over $20,000 has been collected for a total of 48 per cent of the over-all quota. (Photo by Pfc T. E. Duggan.)

Duties Of Bus Monitors, Parents Are Spelled Out

Responsibilities and duties of adults, whose children ride Camp Lejeune school buses, have been outlined in Base Order 4641.6A. Responsibilities of pupils were published last week. Parents of school children are responsible for (1) having children ready to board school buses promptly, (2) not delaying buses by holding conversation with the drivers. The responsibility of adequately instructing children regarding maintenance of proper conduct at all times also lies with the parents.

In particular, it is emphasized that children must obey all instructions issued by the Superintendent of Schools, Principal, school bus operators, and the school children monitors. With regard to maintaining discipline and enforcing safety measures, the school bus driver is the final authority on his specific bus.

At any time that a school bus driver cannot maintain order, the bus run will be terminated at that point and the operator will call the Motor Transport, operations officer, for further instructions.

Base Scouts, Cubs Join In Celebration

All scouts and scouters of Camp Lejeune and Onslow County are joining the nation this week in celebrating the 50th anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America.

There was a Father and Son Banquet at Marston Pavilion Tuesday night and many scouts are assuming the honorary positions of different city officials to day.

Many Scout and Cub Scout windows are displayed throughout

Parents and members of Cub Scout Pack 190 are requested to meet at the Tarawa Terrace Community Center at 8:30 a.m. Saturday to form for the Boy Scout Parade. They are also notified that special Scout church services will be held at the Terrace school Sunday.

Onslow County including four windows at the Marine Corps Exchange, with each display represented by the four Lejeune Troops.

A Boy Scout parade is scheduled to begin at 10 a.m. Saturday which will start at the City Hall and end at the New River Shopping Center. At this point the Order of the Arrow will give a demonstration about the American Indians.

Boy Scout Week, which began Feb. 7, started and will end with special religious services.

All violations of school bus regulations on the part of students will be reported by the Base Motor Transport officer to the Superintendent of Schools for disciplinary action. Should a student be involved in a second major violation on a nature which impairs the safe operations of the school bus, the student will be barred from riding the bus.

Monitor Responsibilities

School bus monitors will be responsible for:

- (1) Assisting the driver in orderly admitting and discharging the pupils at the school building or at other stops.
- (2) Seeing that all pupils are aboard and properly placed before the bus leaves the school building.
- (3) Assisting pupils on and off the bus and escorting them across the road when directed by bus drivers or other authorized persons.
- (4) Seeing that pupils do not get on and off the bus while it is in motion.
- (5) Cautioning pupils not to move around in the bus while it is in motion.
- (6) Keeping aisles free from books, lunch baskets and other objects.
- (7) Cautioning pupils not to extend hands, heads or bodies through the windows.
- (8) Acting as flagman at railroad crossings and at similar hazards when directed by bus driver or other authorized persons.
- (9) Reporting to the driver and his monitor chairman any violation of the rules and regulations by any passenger on the school bus.

Midway Park PTA

A recitation contest will be presented by the children of Midway Park School at the monthly meeting of the P.T.A. It will be held in Midway Park Cafeteria at 7:30 p.m. February 15. Contestants from each grade will participate. Judging the contest will be: Mr. J. Robinson Jr., assistant publisher of the Jacksonville Daily News; Mr. Marion Godwin, Jacksonville lawyer; and Chaplain Vinson. Refreshments will be served.

Federal Service Drive Near End

With only one week left in the 1960 Federal Service Campaign, Quad-Command units have donated over $20,000. This is only 48 per cent of the over-all quota set for Camp Lejeune. Donations to the campaign help to fight many of America's most dreaded diseases. Contributions help in re-

Command Change

Letter of Commendation for meritorious and efficient performance of duties while on the staff of the commanding general, Service Command, Fleet Marine Force, Pacific, during 1944 and 1945.

During his early years as a commissioned officer, he followed a tour of sea duty with a four-year assignment to the Marine Barracks at 8th and Eye, duty which found his tasks are many and varied: commanding officer of the Marine Corps Institute Detachment; publisher and editor of the Leatherneck Magazine; a member of the Marine Guard Detachment at the "Little White House," which the late President Roosevelt built at Warm Springs, Ga.; Post Intelligence Officer; and the officer in charge of the Post Exchange.

Following duty at Marine Corps posts and stations all over the globe, Colonel Butcher reported to his present duty as Supply School commander in 1958.

During their tour of duty at Camp Lejeune, Mrs. Butcher has been active in the Officers Wives Club and is presently serving as president of that organization.

search and treatment for cancer, heart diseases, arthritis and rheumatism, muscular dystrophy, multiple sclerosis, crippling diseases, blindness and cerebral palsy. Through the International Relationship agencies, donations are used to send food through CARE, Inc., and the American Korean Foundation. Crusade for Freedom is also supported through this campaign.

Division troops lead in the 1960 drive with an overall contribution of 63 per cent, followed by the civilian employees with 50 per cent. Marine Corps Base with 47 per cent is third and the Air Force has donated 46 per cent. Thirty per cent has been contributed by Force Troops.

Lt. Col. Sam W. Smith, chairman of the drive, has pointed out that there are only seven days remaining in the campaign which is due to end Feb. 19.

No monetary quota has been established for the campaign. However, 100 per cent voluntary participation by members of the Armed Forces and federal employees is desired.

President Eisenhower has endorsed the Federal Service campaign and has asked for a "full citizens' share of voluntary support" of the drive.

Bus Schedule Has Changes, Additions

Four minor errors were made in last week's school bus schedule. The corrections, along with certain changes and additional information regarding lost and found articles, are as follows:

Schedule No. 1 — Pickup time from Bus No. 3 at H-53 River Road, Naval Hospital, should read 0829 instead of 0820.

Schedule No. 2 — Pickup time for Bus No. 8 at 1294 Incheon St., Tarawa Terrace I, should read 0734 instead of 0732.

Schedule No. 5 — Pickup point for Bus No. 2 will be 189 Tarawa Blvd., instead of 180 Tarawa Blvd.

Schedule No. 6 — Pickup point for Bus No. 16 will be Rifle Range Quarters No. 43 instead of Quarters No. 3.

Afternoon Return to Quarters (Grades 1 through 6)—Buses No. 1 and No. 3 will pickup from Camp School at 1430 and deliver students to Paradise Point and Hospital Point.

Bus No. 16 will pickup from Midway Park School at 1400, then from Holcomb School at 1440, for delivery of students to Courthouse Bay, Rifle Range and Anti-Tank Range.

LOST AND FOUND

Information requests regarding lost and found articles should be directed to the First Transport Platoon, Base Motor Transport, phone 7-5736 or 7-3474.

School Buses 1 through 15 (first through 12th grades) are cleaned and inspected for lost articles after each trip (i.e. 1100 and 1630).

Articles are returned twice weekly (Monday and Friday) to the office of the Principal, Camp School. School Buses 17, 18 and 19 (Nursery and Kindergarten)—Same procedures are followed except articles are returned to appropriate schools daily.

On scheduled Base Bus trips, Sunday school and Catechism trips, Little League, Basketball and other special trips the owner of person in charge of the trip is notified whenever possible. Articles are held for thirty (30) days.

Major Thompson Assigned Division Reenlistment Office

"It's a good career—stay with it," urges Maj. Carl B. Thompson, newly appointed 2nd Division Reenlistment Officer. Major Thompson, a former enlisted man and now in his 18th year as a Marine, is well qualified to discuss the military as a career. Assigned to his present post Jan. 25, the major's duties consist principally of assisting commanders in organizing and maintaining an effective reenlistment program.

To accomplish this mission, the major and his staff will provide comprehensive training and guidance for all "lower echelon" personnel engaged in reenlistment duties.

The lower echelon in this instance is considered to be units of regimental and battalion size.

"After all," Major Thompson said, "the main objective of our reenlistment program is to retain as many of our highly qualified Marines as possible. To do this, our reenlistment NCO's have to be thoroughly oriented in their duties and well acquainted with the advantages and services our program has to offer."

Major Thompson and his Reenlistment Chief, Act. MSgt. Andrew J. Szafranski, have a full schedule of personal interviews, unit and "wives club" speaking engagements, and a two-day school for reenlistment NCO's on Feb. 10-11.

Warming up to his subject, Major Thompson made it plain that he is leaving no stone unturned in his quest to "merchandise" and "sell" the benefits of the Marine Corps as a career.

"We are always available for interviews, lectures, career appraisals, and information on schools, civilian employment and the reserve program.

"In short—we offer aid and information on any matter that concerns the serviceman and his dependents," said the major. The major's office is located in Bldg. 537; telephone 7-3693.

Major Thompson strongly emphasizes that liaison be maintained between unit reenlistment NCO's, company commanders and prospective reenlistees.

The major commented that he was "most concerned" with first-order enlistees as the overall percentage in the category is expected to reach 20-25 per cent.

"The initial enlistment personnel represent a tremendous investment by the Marine Corps. To realize a 'profit' on this investment, the Corps has to retain these people for another enlistment," Major Thompson said.

If the initiative and enthusiasm shown by Major Thompson and Sergeant Szafranski is indicative of their success with the 2nd Division's reenlistment program, "... the situation is well in hand."

WELL-INFORMED—Division Marines may obtain any and all information pertaining to a Marine Corps career from the new Division reenlistment officer, Maj. Carl B. Thompson. Major Thompson, a former enlisted man, has spent 18 years in the Marine Corps and is a veteran of World War II and the Korean War.

Camp Program Of Special Events Should Be Copied By Specialists

Word has been received here of a congress of the American Recreation Society to be held in Washington next September.

The congress is an annual affair, during which outstanding Recreation and Special Events programs of the Armed Forces Special Services sections are recognized and commended to the assembled specialists.

We would like to suggest that the outstanding accomplishments of the Camp Lejeune Special Services Office in scheduling and staging of special events be exhibited for the examination of this group of civilian and military specialists.

Camp Lejeune Marines and their dependents can consider themselves fortunate in being able to see and hear some of the outstanding figures of the world of entertainment. The fabulous Harlem Globetrotters have recently completed an engagement here and on March 1, Fred Waring and his Pennsylvanians will appear in concert at the field house.

During the past year, Marines were offered a variety of top-flight performers: the Polack Brothers Circus; Stan Kenton, modern America's Man of Music; Broadway shows including "The Most Happy Fella" and "A Village Wooing"; the Water Follies, and Louis Armstrong and his All-Stars.

In the weeks and months to come, more of America's favorite entertainers will appear at Camp Lejeune: Sal Salvador and his Jazz Quartet, Jose Greco and his Spanish Dancers, Hugo Winterhalter and his orchestra and direct from Broadway, Hal Holbrook in "Mark Twain Tonight." All this has been made possible by the outstanding special events program sponsored by the Base Special Services.

With all these events behind us and many more coming up, can there be any doubt that an august body such as the American Recreation Society would be interested?

We think it inconceivable that such a congress would knowingly miss an opportunity of learning how such an outstanding program was planned and carried to successful achievement.

What Made Lincoln Run? How Did A Failure Rise To The Presidency?

Exactly a century ago Americans elected a President whose career was checkered with tragedy and failures. Looking over his record, you wonder what the voters ever saw in him.

Everything in his life seemed to have gone badly. He'd failed in business as early as 1831. That same year he ran for the Illinois Legislature. He lost.

Two years later he failed in business again. The next year his sweetheart died and he had a nervous breakdown.

You'd think he'd have had enough of public life. But in 1840 he was a candidate for Presidential elector. He was defeated. Three years later he sought his party's nomination for Congress. He lost.

He finally was elected to Congress in 1846. But two years later he lost out on another term. In 1855 he sought a seat in the Senate. He didn't get it. A year later he aimed at the Vice-Presidency. He didn't get that either. Two years later he was again defeated for the Senate.

You study this record of political setbacks and you ask yourself: Why in the world didn't Lincoln stop trying? What made Abraham run; most men would have wearied after so many repudiations and faded into obscurity.

But, of course, the man who was born 151 years ago was not most men, although he understood his fellow men better than most. Politics gave purpose and meaning to his life. He persevered until the people gave him the Presidency. The rest is history.

Chaplain's Corner

We Fare Best As Listeners

A fellow catches a good mess of fish and immediately he has all the answers on how to hook them. He tells in detail the tactics that should be employed, the proper selection of bait and just how to use the lure in tide variations. Of course, he always winds the lesson up with a proverbial story about the big one that got away. There has been that constant seeking of a bait by fishermen that will do the trick. The trick of catching the fish that refuses to get hooked. Men have spent millions of dollars on fishing tackle and lures to no avail.

Walk into any sporting goods shop and behold the display of snares and baits. It seems there is a lure for all fish. There is not. The fish that refuses to open its mouth at the crucial time never gets hooked. A stuffed dolphin in a sporting goods window had a caption which read: "I wouldn't be here if I kept my big mouth shut," as with fish, so with us. We manage to get in troubled waters because of idle talk. We open our mouths the wrong time. The odds seem to be two to one that we would fare better if we were listeners. The Creator gave us two ears to one mouth. Surely, we can lay the blame upon ourselves when we get hooked. It could have been avoided had we kept our big mouths shut.

A little bird lived in an oak
The more he heard the less he spoke
The less he spoke the more he heard
Why can't we be like that little bird?

Division Chaplain.

If You Ask Me:

WHAT HAVE YOU ENJOYED MOST DURING YOUR MARINE CORPS TOUR OF DUTY?

ACT. MSGT. P. E. McCUINE, First Sergeant, WM Co., Hq. Bn. — I can think of a number of enjoyable experiences during my tour of duty with the Corps. Among these is the time spent in Hawaii. The climate and atmosphere going hand in hand with usual WM duty was certainly enjoyable, to say the least. On the other hand, I am most satisfied with my assignments here at Camp Lejeune, for I have the opportunity of getting to know a company. Coming in first-hand with practically all of the Woman Marines on Base is a very interesting job.

most enjoyable experiences I could ever hope for. I couldn't say what I have enjoyed most as far as a particular incident goes. Maybe in a few years' time you can ask me.

LT. JO ANN KILDAY, Executive Officer, WM Co., Hq. Bn. — Never let it be said that Woman Marine "enjoyments," as you put it, are few and far between. I haven't been in the Marine Corps for too long a period of time, but the type of life it offers me could never be justly explained. Dealing with so many types of personalities, doing such unpredictably different kinds of duty, and the satisfaction of living under the strict policy of service life are the PFC LORRAINE ESTERBROOK, WM Co., Hq. Bn. — Life in the Marine Corps can be a truly wonderful experience depending upon personal attitude, application, and fitness. This holds true of civilian occupation as well as military. Working in both "outfits," I can honestly say my job here at Camp Lejeune is what I enjoy most. Realizing the purpose of almost everything that is done in my work section, and having the pleasure of working with cooperation and friendliness is enough to make anyone want to improve and advance in his field. The basic procedure encourages initiative and enthusiasm so that you don't tire as easily as very often happens in civilian life.

PVT. MARGARET TALVITIE, WM Co., Hq. Bn. — This may sound like double talk, but the most enjoyable part of my Marine Corps tour of duty is simply the Marine Corps tour of duty. The routine, procedure, teamwork, purpose, and set ways of military living all blend in to spell "enjoyment" to me. This is especially true of boot camp, since there's a constant reminder of teamwork, purpose, etc. The many bonds that are made cannot be compared with any work in civilian life. There's that "little something" here which is definitely lacking anywhere in similar type civilian jobs.

PFC LILIAN CRONIN, WM Co., Hq. Bn. — I'm very much satisfied with the decision I made to enlist in the Marine Corps. There are definitely some memorable events that took place since I've been in that I never would have seen had I stayed a civilian. Life in the Corps has shown me several enjoyable experiences. It's a good way to spend a few years and I'll never say I regret enlisting. Camp Lejeune, itself, is a fine Base and I enjoyed the majority of the time here so far. Spending the Christmas season on Base was quite pleasant, too, with the hustle-bustle at the barracks and around the Base.

 A re-release of the 1956 picture of the life of the famous musician. Benny Goodman, Steve Allen portrays the famous jazz musician from young manhood to the era of swing and the big-band sound. THE TRAP
 With Technicolor to heighten the effect of the setting, in the desert of California, this often exciting western melodrama is spun out, dealing with an attempt to arrange the escape from the country by plane of a notorious, wanted gangland leader, and how it was prevented.  Expanding action in the hunt for a man-killing tiger done in color among the magnificent mountains of northern India, a man with steel nerves, Stewart Granger, in love with a woman, Barbara Rush, married to a craven, Anthony Steel, while thinking he is a hero, make up the principal ingredients of this thrilling melodrama (filmed in India). (110 min.)

OPERATION PETTICOAT
 Cary Grant and Tony Curtis, as the Navy skipper of a "wounded" submarine and his junior supplies officer, respectively, with Curtis operating as a slick promoter in obtaining parts to keep the ship running without regard for "procedures" sets the action for this highly funny story. To this situation is added five stranded Army nurses which Curtis retrieves from a Pacific island. To top off this meretricious, the submarine is painted a brilliant pink. (125 min.)

Marines To Commemorate 17th Year Versatility Of Lady Leathernecks Unsurpassed

Woman Marines serving at major posts in the United States, Europe and Hawaii will celebrate the 17th anniversary of their "fighting force" Saturday, proud to stand up and reflect upon the outstanding record they have made since the first World War—eager and able to carry on this fine tradition. During World War I, the Marine Corps began recruiting women to replace men qualified for overseas duty. They accepted 305 women and called them "Marinettes." The women were stationed only at Headquarters Marine Corps. They had no officers, the highest rank held was sergeant. Their uniforms, in keeping with the style of the times, included high-buttoned shoes and long skirts. In July, 1919, the "Marinettes" were disbanded.

During World War II, women were again called upon to serve in the Marine Corps. "Free a Marine to Fight" was the name of campaign to recruit the Woman Reserves. Formed Feb. 13, 1943, they left their domestic routines to begin boot training at Hunter College, N. Y. The officers were trained at Mt. Holyoke, Mass.

After boot training, the women served as bus drivers, repairmen, cooks, typists and anywhere else they might be needed.

The first boot camp for women on a Marine Corps Base was at Camp Lejeune. In July, 1943, 18 drill instructors from Parris Island were sent to Lejeune to train the recruits. At that time, the Base was known as New River. It was later re-named in honor of Gen. John A. Lejeune whose daughter, Pvt. Eugenia Lejeune, completed recruit training in August, 1944.

Civilian clothes were "taboo" in the early years of the war. The uniform was worn for all types of activities and for all occasions, on the job, at the beach, actively engaged in sports and recreation and on liberty.

The first duties assigned to Woman Marines were clerical. Later specialized jobs were assigned. In July, 1945, Congress authorized the first Woman Marines to be sent to Hawaii.

The first director of Woman Marines was Col. Ruth Chaney Streeter, a school teacher from Morristown, N. J. She resigned in December, 1945, and was replaced by Col. Katherine Towle. Colonel Streeter and Colonel Towle were awarded the Legion of Merit for their services during the war.

The Woman Marines were demobilized in September, 1946. All but 100 of the women were sent home, the rest were kept on active duty in Washington, D. C.

After Colonel Towle's resignation, Maj. Julia E. Hamblet was appointed commanding officer of the women remaining on active duty.

the new act were sworn in on the Marine Corps Birthday, Nov. 10, 1948. In 1948, Colonel Towle was again the director of the Woman Marines. She served until May, 1953, when Colonel Hamblet, the youngest director of women in the Armed Services, took command. In 1949, Woman Marines were sent to Parris Island for recruit training and officers were trained at Quantico.

At Camp Lejeune, the Woman Marines are active in carrying out the mission of the Marine Corps. They have a standard working routine, attend drill and classroom training, stand inspections and duty watches much the same as their male counterpart. Capt. E. B. Moroney is the com-

THE OLD CORPS—Although this "Old Corps" recruiting poster was most likely intended to catch the eyes of prospective male recruits, it must have influenced the ideas of several prospective female recruits as well. Little did the artist realize what an impression a woman in dress blues would make until the Marine Corps listed some 300 "Marinettes" on its rosters during World War I. They served on active duty and were governed by the same regulations as the men. Woman Marines weren't able to purchase the dress blues until after this poster was printed but it was obviously more than the uniform that prompted our women to carry out their intentions of becoming the finest group of women in the service. Whether it be the traditional blues of the Corps or everyday greens, the "Gal Leathernecks" stand proud.

So the cycle goes. Woman Marines arrive, do their part in upholding the traditions of the Marine Corps, and leave to either a new duty station or to life as a civilian and a better citizen, never forgetting the outstanding time spent as a part of the history of the Corps and the proud and wonderful days in forest green.

Quantico Sweeps Two Games; Speeds Toward Coast Crown

Jack Sullivan, 6'2" Quantico pivot man scored 69 points in two games, leading the Virginians in a double win over the Camp Lejeune Marines at Goettge Memorial Field House Friday and Saturday nights. Sullivan, after dropping in 28 points to pace the visitors to their first win, 91 to 84, returned in the second game to strip the nets with 15 field goals and 11 free throws for a total of 41 points. Sullivan's scoring effort was only one mark short of tying the Camp Lejeune field house scoring record of 42 tallies set in 1956 by Lejeune's Ernie Beck, now with the Philadelphia Warriors.

Although one point shy of the record, it was more than enough to lead Quantico to their second victory over the locals, 108 to 99, and their 10th straight triumph in the East Coast All-Marine Conference against no defeats.

During the first game the Marines moved into a first quarter 18-13, lead only to see it erased by five straight points by Quantico's Joey Gardner, as the visitors took a 40-36 halftime edge.

A 10-point barrage by Lejeune's Hal Norton in the final three minutes of the game gave some hope to Lejeune fans, but the Virginians managed to shake off the attack and hold a seven-point advantage at the buzzer.

Sullivan Stars

It was Sullivan all the way in the second game as he scored 22 of his 41 markers in the first half, giving Quantico a 55-43 halftime margin over the locals.

Virginians Split With Pups As Quantico Avenges Loss

Quantico high avenged last year's defeat by dropping the boys team 61-38 after Lejeune's girls had won their game 40-29, at Goettge Memorial Field House Saturday afternoon. In the boys game it was Quantico all the way as the combination of Burna Hayden, Andy Wilkinson and Jim Ferris were too much for the Devil Pups on the boards. The locals could not overcome a four-point halftime deficit as Bud Cosby led the Virginians in the scoring division with 18 tallies.

Skip Chapman paced the Lejeune boys with 15 markers. Foul shots could have been said to be the difference as Lejeune free-throwing percentage was well under 30 per cent.

Girls Game

It was a different story in the girls game as the local lasses overtook a five-point deficit to swamp the Virginians in a run-away game. It was Lejeune's Joan Curren who carried the ball for the locals as she hit for a total of 27 points, followed by Patsy Everett with nine.

Quantico's Kathy Keller, co-captain of the visitors, topped the scoring for the losers with 19.

WGA To Host Golf Match

Genie June won the "A" Flight of the Odd and Even Tournament held Feb. 2, by the Womens Golf Association at Paradise Point Golf Course.

The "B" Flight was taken by Patti Seaton while Julia Cowing copped honors in the "C" Flight. Minako Midkiff led in the "D" Flight as Bobbie Florie was low punts, with 16 for nine holes.

Camp Lejeune's Women Golfers will host the monthly WGA Match on Feb. 16. Golfers from Jacksonville, New Bern, Moorehead City, Cherry Point and Camp Lejeune will participate in the match.

A banquet and dance was held for the visitors at the Camp High School Saturday night.

Raiders Drop Three While On The Road

After losing a squeaker to NAS Norfolk, 36-35, last Friday night at Norfolk, the Red Raiders were blasted by the Waves of the Naval Base Norfolk, in a two-games series, 46-23 and 39-23, to make their current road trip a disastrous one.

Mary Shaver led the Flyerettes in their first victory over the Red Raiders of the season, having lost in a prior game, 42-41. Shaver scored 20 points and was followed by Barb Mahrt and Eva Dyer, both with eight.

"Dede" Alexander led the Raiders in the scoring column with 17 tallies, with Marie Paradis in the double figures with 12.

The Marines, trailing by seven points at the half, made a game try of it during the second half, outscoring their opponents 22-16.

Norfolk's Cozad led the Waves in the scoring columns of both Naval Base games with 16 tallies in the first and 15 in the second.

In the first game the Red Raiders were held to only seven points as the Waves compiled 31 to take a 24 halftime deficit. Again the Marines outscored their opponents in the final half, but could not overcome the first half margin.

Pro-Am Golf Match Needs Participants

The possibility of a pro-am golf tournament in connection with the 12th annual $15,000 Azalea Open event next month is being explored by the Wilmington Athletic Assn. The decision will depend upon the response of amateur golfers in the Carolinas who would be interested in playing in a one-day tournament with 50 top professional golfers. The program would be held on Wednesday, March 30, the day before the start of the Azalea Open at the Cape Fear Country Club.

The lineup for the pro-am would be one professional paired with three amateurs in each foursome. The amateur entry would be $25 with the fees used to cover prizes and awards for winning pros and amateurs.

J. B. Hines, president of the Association, and John E. Mowbray, chairman of the pro-am committee, said they hoped for a field of 150 amateur golfers.

Mowbray said a pro-am would help insure a bigger and better field for the Azalea Open, and also give many Carolinas amateur golfers an opportunity to play an 18-hole round with some of the leading professionals.

"Any amateur would be eligible,"

Mowbray said, "regardless of his handicap. We hope interest will be sufficient for us to go ahead and plan for a pro-am."

Hines and Mowbray said the Association hopes to make a decision within the next two weeks. They urged all interested amateurs to write the Wilmington Athletic Association, P. O. Box 151, Wilmington, N. C., or telephone ROger 3-4769, in Wilmington.

10-POINT BARRAGE—Lejeune's Hal Norton, 30, lays one up in the first game which saw Quantico down the locals 91-84. Norton entered the game in the final three minutes and put on a one-man show, stealing the ball twice and scoring 10 points to cut the deficit to seven points at the buzzer. (Photo by Act. Sgt. W. J. Rush.)

Cash Contest For New Patch Is Under Way

Camp Lejeune's highly active Rifle and Pistol Club has announced a contest to select an appropriate insignia for the club. A cash prize will be awarded the winning entry.

Announcing the start of the contest, Capt. Homer Spiers, vice-president of the club, said the winning insignia will be reproduced in a patch to be worn on caps and shooting jackets worn by club members.

Entries must be in color or have recommended colors indicated. While no size limitation is placed on drawings to be entered in the contest, they must be suitable for reproduction.

All entries should be turned in to Captain Spiers at the Base Adjutant Section, Bldg. 1, not later than noon Feb. 29.

Membership in the club is open to all personnel of the Quad-Commands and their dependents. Capt. Cecil O. Seal is president of the club. Act. GySgt. Donald Felty is secretary and treasurer, and Capt. Robert Russell is executive officer.

While many of the club members are also members of the rifle and pistol teams of the various commands, Captain Spiers points out, membership in the club has no connection with these teams. Membership is not limited to expert marksmen, but is open to everyone interested in rifle and pistol shooting.

The club meets the first Monday of each month in the dining room of the Montford Point Staff NCO Club. The next meeting is scheduled for March 7 at 7:30 p.m.

Primary mission of the club is to establish and promote fellowship among rifle and pistol shooters and to further rifle and pistol marksmanship in the Camp Lejeune area.

Judges Name Champs After Division Fight

Ringside judges named the Second Marines intramural boxing champions after the Second Marines and Eighth Marines had finished the season in a deadlock for first place. The judges consulted ringside scoring cards to determine the champion after both teams had finished with 10 wins and nine losses.

In an action-packed opening bout Gary Wells (Second Marines) completely outclassed Bill Taker in the opening round, then floored the Cannoneer pugilist in 1:13 of the second round to gain the victory.

After a slow first round, Jim Robeson, Cannoneer lightweight, turned on the steam to gain a unanimous decision over Dan Rich (Second Marines). Robeson employed his longer reach to good advantage in slugging his way to the victory.

Harry Hudspeth continued the Cannoneer's victory skein with a unanimous decision over Bill Goldson (Second Marines). Hudspeth took complete charge of the bout midway through the second round and continued the onslaught throughout the remainder of the bout to sew up the decision.

Charlie Brown got the Second Marines back on the victory trail again with a unanimous decision over Bob Baker (Tenth Marines) in the fourth bout of the evening. Both fighters slugged it out toe-to-toe throughout the entire fight with Brown scoring several damaging blows in second round action.

Henry Johnson (Second Marines) kept the ball rolling for the league champions with a TKO victory over Len Fontenot (Tenth Marines) in 1:22 of the final round. Johnson floored his opponent midway through the second round to set up the third round knockout.

Bill Brown (Tenth Marines) scored the third knockout of the night's card when he floored Tom Rankin (Second Marines) in 1:07 of the third round. Brown staggered his opponent in the opening round with a roundhouse right to gain complete control of the fight.

Bob Beckett gained the final victory of the night for the Cannoneer forces with a dramatic second round knockout of Jim Williams (Second Marines). Beckett uncorked a tremendous left to floor his agile opponent in 1:34 of the second round. Williams had completely dominated first round action prior to the knockout.

The selection of teams and dates they will play is decided after the regular season has ended and county standings are known. In view of this, the tournament schedule is not available at this time, but will be published in the Jacksonville Daily News.

and gained them world recognition as the Ambassadors of Sport. Mainstay of the court wizards was 6'8" center J. C. Gipson, who has mastered the basketball as Houdini mastered the act of escape. His continuous comedy and remarkable ball handling brought thunderous applause from the fans.

Equally as entertaining were the members of the All-Nations with Reynold Freitas, 6' guard from Hawaii, bringing the crowd to its feet with spectacular set shots from mid-court.

Halftime Entertainment

Halftime entertainment was highlighted by Roy Poy, juggling unicyclist from Australia, who held the spectators spellbound throughout his performance.

The Trotters defeated . . . Gosh, what WAS the score? Who cares, the entertainment was such that few people had time to glance at the scoreboard.

Sports In Short

Act. SSgt. Bob Wills

What has become of the sportsmanship that has been shown at Camp Lejeune in past years? Why have Lejeune rooters turned to harrassing players of their own varsity squad?

This certainly is not the way of a Marine, nor is it the way of a good sport.

The members of Camp Lejeune's varsity teams are not only participating to win a crown, but also to provide entertainment for the sports enthusiasts of the Quad-Command.

Heckling your own team does not help win the ball game or provide enjoyment. It does bother those who are interested in the team and the thrill of sports, no matter who is playing.

Along the same lines, tormenting the officials does not aid the game. True, it is an American way of life to razz the referee and umpires, but this too can be over done.

Remember, if you do not participate in any sport, at least be one.

Information has been received that Act. GySgt. Victor E. Brandt, while at the Pinehurst Skeet Club mid-winter match, shot 97 out of 100 instead of the previous reported 87x100.

It should cost in the vicinity of $1,000 to take in the Winter Olympics at Squaw Valley, Calif., Feb. 18-28. If you watch your pennies, it could be much less. Much depends on your bank book, where you stay, and how far you have to travel.

Nellie Fox, Chicago White Sox star, was awarded the Sid Mercer Award last Sunday night at the annual dinner of the New York Chapter of the Baseball Writers Assn., while Al Lopez, pilot of the Sox, received the Bill Slocum Award for "Long and Meritorious Service" in the baseball world.

Larry Sherry, who won two games and saved two more for the Dodgers in their World Series triumph, has been awarded the "Babe Ruth Award" for the series' most outstanding player.

The San Francisco Giants have moved into their new home. The new seven million dollar Candlestick Park on the edge of San Francisco Bay seats 45,000, twice the capacity of the Giants' previous home.

Wilt, the Stilt, scored 41 points last week as the Philadelphia Warriors downed the Minneapolis Lakers to set a new Cow Palace scoring record. The old record of 39 was set by Ron Tomsic of Stanford University.

Bob Pettit, star rebounder and scoring ace of the St. Louis Hawks, has become the only National Basketball Association player to win the President's Cup twice. The award is made annually by Newspaper Enterprise Assn. to the most valuable player in the NBA as chosen in a poll of the league's players.

Cincinnati's Oscar Robertson breezed past the three-year scoring mark for major college basketball players set by Frank Selvy in 1954. The Big "O" dropped his 2,539th point during Cincinnati's 96-61 victory over Drake.

Charter Petition Successful As Sixty-Five Players Sign

The first special meeting of the newly formed "Camp Lejeune Judo Club" was held last Sunday at the Goettge Memorial Field House. The main topic of the meeting was to petition the Shufu Judo Yudanshakai (East Coast Headquarters for Judo in Washington, D. C.) for charter and official affiliation. An enthusiastic 65 individuals, men and boys, signed the petition becoming charter members of the club and a strong nucleus for future activity.

Membership in the Shufu requires a $3 annual fee for members 17 years of age and over. This membership registers the individual internationally and promotions are recognized in any legitimate Kodokan Judo school or club.

Any interested individuals should contact one of the club officers listed below for further information: Capt. B. T. Burke, 7-5265; Act. SSgt. Ira Bonar, 7-3787; Lt. Joe Casale, 7-5442, or Sergeant Blaille, 7-5435.

Nightly workouts are conducted from 7 p.m. thru 9 p.m. at Building 1309 in the industrial area and Sunday from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. for dependents at the Field House.

The club played its first unofficial inter-service match with the Cherry Point Judo Club Saturday at Cherry Point. The locals came out second best with the Flyers scoring three wins out of five.

Ira Bonar, Lejeune's top contender, won over Cherry Point's Ronald Pretzel, while George W. Coffey finished off Ilyer Ed Amory. Cherry Point's Richard Duff threw Bill Johnson in two minutes, while it Seconds later Clint Parsons dropped in a layup to put the 2nd Bn., Tenth Marines, contingent ahead to stay. "Red" Cleary tossed in a total of 23 points to pace 2nd Bn., Tenth Marines, to the victory.

Medical Letter Explains Fish Sting Care

New treatments for venomous fish stings have been proposed in a Medical News Letter.

The new treatments may mean many lives saved and much pain and suffering brought to an end. According to the report, swimmers and skin divers are most apt to benefit from the new techniques. In some cases the stings have proven to be fatal.

The stings of venomous marine life are associated with specialized spines, containing the venom glands. These spines are found on fins, gill covers or tails.

The wound is usually of the puncture type and may show some laceration. However, fish do not inject their venom as do snakes. Pain is almost immediate, swelling is usual and gangrene can occur. The area around the wound may show a loss of blood followed by a blue color owing to lack of oxygen in the blood.

Other symptoms which may occur are heart failure, difficulty in breathing, delirium, convulsions, vomiting, blood disorders and fever.

The fish causing the stings include horned sharks, sting rays, ratfish, catfish, weeverfishes, scorpionfishes, toadfishes, dragonets, rabbitfishes and stargazers. Species of the venomous are found in all the oceans and seas of the world in both tropical and temperate regions.

The news letter says that treatment should be directed to alleviating pain, combating the effects of the venom and preventing secondary infections. Recommended treatment is to soak the injured member in water as hot as the patient can stand. Soaking should be done for 30 minutes to one hour, and should be started as soon as possible.

Cutting the wound and sucking as in the manner of snake bites is recommended. A tourniquet may be used between the wound and the heart and should be placed as close to the wound as possible, however, its value is debatable. In any event the patient should be rushed to a hospital as soon as possible for application of pain killers and treatment for secondary shock. Simple supportive measures suffice for primary shocks, but secondary shocks require immediate and vigorous therapy.

Modern Dental Science Principles Given To Camp Lejeune High School Students

"Dental research now being conducted offers promise of revolutionizing dentistry," Capt. C. T. Pridgeon, USN, Base Dental Officer, made that statement this week in a talk before the students of Camp Lejeune High school on the occasion of National Children's Dental Health Week, which is being observed Feb. 7 to 13.

According to Captain Pridgeon, research already has given the dental profession sufficient information to justify the statement that no child need ever lose a tooth from decay.

Despite the further hope offered by research, the most effective way the individual can fight dental disease in his mouth is by observing the principles of proper dental care. Captain Pridgeon predicted that it will be some time before there is a substitute for these principles, which he listed as:

- Making proper use of the toothbrush.
- Eating a balanced diet light in sugar-rich foods.
- Going regularly to the dentist.

Since these principles have been known for many years, Captain Pridgeon raised the question of why there still is so much dental diseases in the United States.

He answered the question by saying that perhaps the principles of proper dental care sound too easy, too simple. Although this may be true, Captain Pridgeon stressed their importance in preventing dental disease.

To quote the captain, "The great hope for reducing the size of the dental problem must lie in the acceptance by the public of the lessons of prevention."

Discussing the three preventive principles of proper dental care, the speaker referred to the toothbrush as the "most effective instrument in the prevention of tooth decay."

Captain Pridgeon called timing the vital element by using the toothbrush. The teeth, he explained, should be brushed after every meal and snack.

The speaker stated that the foods essential to good general health also are important in the development of healthy teeth, and that even more important are the foods people should avoid eating—foods that are rich in sugar.

He ended by saying, "Modern dental science has taught us so much about the proper care of teeth that there is ample reason today to smile."

Every Day; Family Day For Three Area Marines

Off-duty hours, baby sitting, dish washing, and other household chores are a family affair for three Camp Lejeune Marines. They are three married brothers, Pfc Morris P., and Sgts. William L. and Leon E. Daniels, assigned to Division, Force Troops, and Air Facility, respectively. Morris, the youngest of the trio, was the last of the Daniels to enlist in the Corps. A fourth brother, Jack P., was discharged from the Corps in September, 1951, after a four-year enlistment which included duty in Korea.

When Morris reported aboard the Base from Japan recently for duty, William and Leon were on hand to greet him. It was like coming to a family reunion since the three brothers' wives were also here.

Morris and his wife, Kathryn, William and his wife, Marie, live together in their mobile home at lot 641, Knox Trailer Park. Leon and his wife, Patsy, live at 1017 MEMO, New River Air Facility.

Liberty nights usually find the brothers and their wives getting together at the Knox home of Morris and William or at the quarters of Leon. Some weekends, the three families load into one car for the short trip home. Their parents, Mr. and Mrs. William M. Daniels live at Galivants Ferry, S. C., about 148 miles from Camp Lejeune.

Most of the time, however, they

Sergeant Builds Ship Inside His Barracks

A sergeant is building a ship in Barracks 212; a three-masted schooner at that. How will the sergeant launch the ship? Will the barracks have to be torn down? Will the sergeant automatically be promoted to captain as befitting a sailing master? Or will he be demoted when the commanding officer gets the word?

The answer to all these questions is NO! For the ship is a model and is only three feet long.

The shipbuilder, Act. SSgt. Raymond F. Chanette, a platoon sergeant in Delta Co., 1st Bn., Second Marines, has been working on the model in his spare time during the past two weeks.

The gleaming, four-color scale model, a replica of the original Sark, is complete except for the topside rigging and the sails. Sergeant Chanette figures it will take him about 15 or 20 hours to finish these painstaking details.

The Cutty Sark kit comes broken down into 233 pieces and features movable boat davits, rudder and wheel, bilge pump controls, hatch covers, and belaying pins.

The original Cutty Sark was built in Scotland and sailed between the Old World and the New in the 1880's.

Fishing Pier Ceremonies To Be Held

After weathering a five-month storm of delays, long-awaited "Riseley Pier" opens Sunday morning with an "open house" celebration beginning a 8 a.m. and lasting until dark. Camp Lejeune Marines, their families and guests, will get their first look at the giant fishing dock, under construction a mile and a half south of the enlisted men's beach house at Onslow Beach since last May.

The 850-foot pier, to be named in honor of retired Lt. Gen. James P. Riseley, former Base commander, was hampered by many problems, including a shortage of the type of lumber used in pier construction. Originally, it was due for completion last September.

Free First Day

Admission to the pier will be free for the opening day festivities. The Exchange snack bar, tackle and bait shop will be open throughout the day.

Beginning Monday, the $120,000 structure will be open from 8 a.m. until midnight every day of the week. When warmer weather moves into the Carolinas, the pier will remain open around the clock.

Actual dedication of the pier is scheduled sometime in April, according to Pier Manager Robert G. McIntyre. General Riseley will travel from his New Mexico home to be present for the ceremony. A bronze-lettered plaque will be posted on the pier; the inscription reading: "Riseley Pier, Named In Honor of James P. Riseley, Lt. Gen., USMC, Retired, An Avid Sportsman"; the dedication date currently pending.

Admission to the pier after Sunday will cost 40 cents for a 24-hour ticket. The weekly rate is $1.50. Monthly tickets cost $4. Rental tackle will be available for 25 cents, and includes rod, reel, line, hooks, and sinker. Ice and bait may also be purchased. Patrons may, however, use their own gear or Special Services equipment checked out at their respective units.

GLOBE Salutes Pioneer Battalion

You Name It, The Pioneer Battalion Is Able To Do It

Laying and clearing minefields, building roads and bridges, constructing a building—you name it, the Pioneer Battalion can do it. To meet the needs of the 2nd Division as a "force-in-readiness" the Pioneer Battalion has done away with the bulky, heavy equipment of World War II and the Korean conflict and today stands ready to "pack up and go" in the modern nuclear age. The 2nd Pioneer Battalion was originally activated in February, 1941, at Camp Elliott, Calif. Soon after organizing, its designation was changed to the 2nd Engineer Battalion. The unit is still the Division's engineers although it was renamed the Pioneer Battalion when it was formed for the second time in January, 1953. Then it discarded the heavy equipment in favor of its present-day light, mobile working tools.

Pioneer Battalion is composed of three letter companies—"A," "B," and "C," a Headquarters and Service Company, and a Support Company.

The letter companies are composed of combat engineers who do the actual construction on all tasks assigned the Battalion. Typical of the jobs undertaken are building forms for foundations; pouring cement; constructing bridges; and laying-out camp sites during Division training exercises. The letter companies also maintain roads in training areas.

The mission of the Support Company is to provide close engineer support for the Division. Within the company is all the heavy equipment, drivers and operators for such equipment, the motor transport section, electricians, draftsmen, surveyors, communicators, and other technicians needed to perform the company's mission. The company also operates the 2nd Division's drafting school.

Support Company surveyors and draftsmen work hand-in-hand in laying out parade routes, safety zones for Division firing ranges, and parking areas as part of their Pioneer assignment.

An integral part of the Support Company is the Demolition Section which lays minefields ahead of defensive positions and breaches those created by the enemy. The Battalion demolition school also trains infantry Marines throughout the Division in basic land mine warfare and demolitions. The various units are afforded an opportunity to attend school lasting from one day up to two weeks. The basic operating unit within the Pioneers is the letter companies, but all equipment and operators for this equipment must come from the Support Company.

Headquarters and Service Company is the administrative unit of the Battalion. Here the technical aspects of the various tasks undertaken by the Battalion are worked over by engineering experts and then handed down to the separate companies. The seemingly endless administrative chores are handled by clerks, typists, legal workers, supply personnel, communicators and medical corpsmen.

Division Units Adopt Control In-Put Policy

One of the most stabilizing personnel policies adopted by the 2nd Marine Division during the past year was the decision to control personnel in-put of Marines to infantry units.

Accordingly, 50 per cent of all personnel assigned to infantry units must now have a minimum of 15 months left to serve on their assignments, while the other 50 per cent must have 30 months remaining. At the end of the current 15 months, replacements for the initial 50 per cent will be assigned for 30 months. Turnover will then be limited to 50 per cent every 15 months, with each Marine assigned for 30 months of total service in the battalion.

By the end of calendar year 1958 there were five infantry battalions in the Division organized under the controlled in-put concept. The remainder will be so organized by April 1, 1960.

During a Marine's tour of duty with an infantry battalion under the controlled in-put concept, he will not be subject to transfer.

Italian Made Howitzer Now Being Tested

The Marine Corps announces plans for tactical evaluation of Italian-developed 105mm pack howitzer for possible use in Marine divisions as a close support artillery weapon.

Through arrangements with Italian government, the Corps obtained two of the lightweight howitzers. One will be tested at the Marine Corps Landing Force Development Center at Quantico, Virginia. The other will be turned over to the U.S. Army on a loan basis for evaluation.

Versatility

From a Marine Corps point of view, the most attractive feature of the Italian howitzer are its mobility and versatility. The weapon weighs only 2,860 pounds, fits a standard U.S. 105mm shell, helicopter transportable, and breaks down into 16 component parts which can be man-carried.

The howitzer is capable of an average rate of fire of 5 1/2 rounds per minute, and has a maximum range of about 11,000 yards. In addition to firing normal artillery close support missions, it can be used as an anti-tank weapon by depressing its muzzle for flat-trajectory fire.

The split-trail howitzer is capable of being towed by a light weight vehicle such as the "Convertible Mule." It utilizes a crew of eight and can be put into action in less than three minutes from stop position.

Already operational in the Italian Army, the howitzer is now being field tested by the British.

Jacksonville USO Celebrates Its Eighteenth Anniversary

The 19th National Anniversary of United Services Organizations, Inc., and the 18th Anniversary of the Jacksonville USO were celebrated in the Tallman Street Service Club Sunday afternoon. Since its opening Feb. 15, 1942, the Jacksonville USO has never closed its doors. Even during the short period after World War II when USO became temporarily inactive, the Tallman St. Club continued to serve. Funds for the operation were furnished during this interim period by the National Catholic Community Service which, through the USO, has been the operating agency of this club since its beginning.

The USO is a federation of voluntary civilian agencies whose purpose is to provide religious, spiritual, social, welfare, recreational, and educational services to the members of America's Armed Forces and their families.

Among the facilities available for the Camp Lejeune serviceman are: a library, hi-fi set, snack bar, pool tables, shuffle-board, ping pong tables, a nine-hole miniature golf course, writing desks with USO stationery and envelopes, and telephone booths for those all-important phone calls home. Outside of its many recreational facilities, the USO sponsors dances, parties, and this past year a USO Mystery Mother of the Year, an idea originating exclusively with the Jacksonville USO.

Federal Service Campaign In Closing Week Of Drive

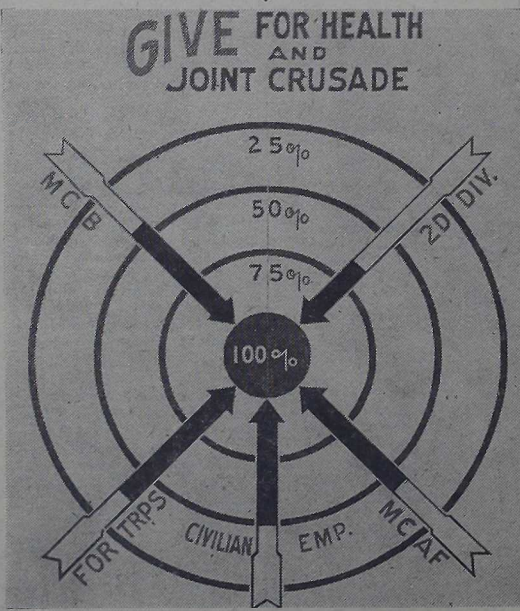

With only one week left in the 1960 Federal Services Campaign, Quad-Command units have donated over $20,000. This is only 48 per cent of the over-all quota set for Camp Lejeune. Donations to the campaign help to fight many of America's most dreaded diseases. Contributions help in research and treatment for cancer, heart diseases, arthritis and rheumatism, muscular dystrophy, multiple sclerosis, crippling diseases, blindness and cerebral palsy. Through the International Relationship agencies, donations are used to send food through CARE, Inc., and the American Korean Foundation. Crusade for Freedom is also supported through this campaign.

Division troops lead in the 1960 drive with an overall contribution of 63 per cent, followed by the civilian employees with 50 per cent. Marine Corps Base with 47 per cent is third and the Air Facility has donated 46 per cent. Thirty per cent has been contributed by Force Troops.

Lt. Col. Sam W. Smith, chairman of the drive, has pointed out that there are only seven days remaining in the campaign which is due to end Feb. 19.

No monetary quota has been established for the campaign. However, 100 per cent voluntary participation by members of the Armed Forces and federal employees is desired.

President Eisenhower has endorsed the Federal Service campaign and has asked for a "full citizens' share of voluntary support" of the drive.
