4 Generals Shift Posts

WASHINGTON, May 8—The Marine Corps yesterday announced assignments for four major generals and 10 brigadier generals, Morning Post reported.

Maj. Gen. Alfred H. Noble, commander of the Marine barracks at Camp Pendleton, Oceanside, Calif., will take command of the Department of the Pacific at San Francisco about mid-June. His successor will be announced later.

Maj. Gen. Henry D. Linscott, now in the office of the Chief of Naval Operations, will become director of the Marine Corps land force development center at Quantico, Va., July 3.

He will be succeeded in Washington by Brig. Gen. Randolph C. Pate, director of the educational center at Quantico. Maj. Gen. Christian F. Schilt, chief of staff of the Atlantic Fleet Marine Force, will take command of the First Marine Air Wing in Korea late in July. He will be succeeded by Brig. Gen. Frank H. Lamson-Scribner, now assistant director of aviation at corps headquarters.

Brig. Gen. James A. Stuart, chief of staff of the Marine Corps schools at Quantico, will become director of the corps educational center on that date to be announced.

Brig. Gen. John T. Selden, deputy commander at Camp Lejeune, N. C., will exchange commands about July 1 with Brig. Gen. William S. Fellers, commander of the troop training unit at Coronado, Calif.

Brig. Gen. Lewis B. (Chesty) Puller, now assistant commander of the First Marine Division in Korea, will return to Camp Pendleton, Oceanside, Calif., to organize and train the new Third Marine

General Whaling Leaves Lejeune For Korea's 'Open Hunting Season'

By HUGH GIBSON

The Marine Corps today sent one of its most colorful generals to Korea as second-in-command of the First Marine Division.

Brig. Gen. William J. Whaling, a veteran of two World Wars and several minor ones, will take over the post of Assistant Division Commander formerly held by much-decorated Brig. Gen. L. B. "Chesty" Puller.

General Whaling left here today by rail for San Francisco, where he will board a plane for the Korean battlefield. He is expected to arrive there by May 20.

On the eve of his departure, the veteran of 34 years' service said that he was delighted with the assignment.

Famous throughout the Corps as a crack shot and ardent hunter, General Whaling described Korea as "the only place I know where the season is open the year 'round."

General Whaling was serving here as Assistant Division Commander, Second Marine Division, when his selection for the same post with the First was announced by Marine Corps Headquarters on March 20.

This will be the general's second tour of combat duty with the First. He joined the Division here early in World War II and went with it to the South Pacific in 1942.

Awarded the Legion of Merit at Guadalcanal, he received a Gold

Star in lieu of a second Legion of Merit during the Cape Gloucester campaign.

Reassigned later to the Sixth Marine Division, General Whaling won the Nation's second highest decoration—the Navy Cross—for extraordinary heroism as a regimental commander at Okinawa.

Reserve Release Start Reported Set For June

WASHINGTON, May 5 — The Army-Navy-Air Force Register today published the latest information available on release of reservists by the Marine Corps. The Register said:

The Marine Corps plans to permit the release from active duty of essentially all its reservists who so desire by June 30, 1952. This will involve some 5,400 officers and 58,500 enlisted members of the Volunteer and Organized Marine Corps Reserve.

Top priority for release will go to World War II veterans. Second will come the non-veterans who were serving in the reserve prior to the Korean fighting; and third, those who voluntarily joined the reserve for immediate assignment to extended active duty since the outbreak of the Korean fighting. Within each priority personnel will be released on a "first in, first out" basis.

Veterans are those who served in the armed services of the United States or its allies for 90 days or more between December 7, 1941, and September 2, 1945; for 12 months or more between September 16, 1940, and June 24, 1948, or for three years or more prior to July 1, 1951. Also included in the top priority are enlisted personnel who will be 26 years of age or more before July 1, 1951.

The first implementing directive specifying which reservists are to be released during June, 1951, will go to the field about mid-May.

Second lieutenants and non-veteran officers are exempted from the above priority categories. Due to urgent needs for junior officers, and to complete a minimum of training, all of these will be retained on active duty for 21 months.

Local commanding officers have been granted authority to approve requests from enlisted reservists to remain on active duty beyond their normal release dates. Each reservist may choose the months of his release to complete a tour of between 21 and 36 months on extended active duty.

On April 29 the Marine Corps announced a program whereby qualified enlisted reservists may join the regular Marine Corps without loss of rank or precedence. Due to uncertainty over the future regular officer strength of the Marine Corps, no such integration program for reserve officers can be offered at this time. Reserve officers desiring to remain on extended active duty may request an extension specifying the month they desire release, for a total tour of between 21 and 36 months on extended active duty.

In order to make planning information available, all requests for retention on active duty beyond normal release dates must be made before July 1, 1951.

General Craig Receives DSM

WASHINGTON, May 4 — Brig. Gen. Edward A. Craig, who took the First Provisional Marine Brigade into Korea last August yesterday received the Distinguished Service Medal for "exceptionally meritorious service" and leadership in the Nakdong River and Inchon-Seoul campaigns, Department of Defense announced.

Presentation was made by Gen. C. B. Cates, Commandant of the Marine Corps. General Craig is serving here as Director of the Marine Corps Reserve.

Previously, General Craig received the Silver Star (Army), Air Medal (Army) and gold star in lieu of a second Air Medal for combat in Korea.

Senate Committee Fixes Corps' Size At 400,000 Men

WASHINGTON, May 5 — The Senate Armed Services Committee this week approved legislation (S-677) that would fix the top strength of the Marine Corps at 400,000, but rejected a provision to make the Commandant a member of the Joint Chiefs of Staff the Armed Force reported today.

The legislation provides that the Commandant be made a "consultant" to the JCS, and specifies that he be consulted on general military matters, and that he be entitled to file reports with the JCS on matters affecting the Marine Corps.

The bill, as originally introduced by Senator Paul Douglas (D., Ill.), and 43 other Senators, would have provided that the USMC be increased to "not less than" four full-

Silver Star Presented To Son Of Marine Hero Killed On Corregidor

By E. A. PICKETT

Nine years ago when Japanese troops stormed Corregidor, M. Sgt. Thomas F. Sweeney was one of the men who met them . . . and killed them until he died in hand-to-hand combat.

Saturday, Pfc Thomas F. Sweeney, Jr., stood at attention—as his dad would have wanted him to do—and received a Silver Star awarded to his heroic father posthumously.

The ceremony, held here on the parade ground, came on the ninth anniversary of the fall of Corregi-dor, American outpost in the Philippines. Maj. Gen. Ray A. Robinson made the presentation.

Sweeney, 10 when his father fought his last fight for the Corps, remembers vaguely the dreary days that preceded his father's death. He remembers waiting hopefully . . . no news . . . no letters . . . then the telegram: "We regret to inform you . . ."

Seven years dragged by before young Sweeney was old enough to follow in his father's footsteps and join the Marines. He joined the re-

Peleliu Action Brings Award Of Silver Star

Sgt. Richard H. Webber was awarded the Silver Star Saturday for "conspicuous gallantry and intrepidity" while serving on Peleliu with the First Marine Division in 1944.

Maj. Gen. Ray A. Robinson, who made the medal presentation, read the citation which told how Webber assumed command of his platoon after his leaders had become casualties and led the unit in an assault on hostile pill-boxes. Under his direction, the platoon repulsed three counter-attacks and wiped out the enemy.

A native of Beverly, Mass., Webber is serving here with the Antitank Assault Company, Eighth Marines. He enlisted in 1942 and before Peleliu saw action with the First Division at Guadalcanal and Cape Gloucester.

Lejeune Marine Smashes Record At Army School

By TOM FORTNEY

Sgt. John A. Vargosko of the Second Air Delivery Platoon (Force Troops), an outfit trained in making supply drops from aircraft, scored an almost "direct hit" on the school's efficiency record while finishing at the head of his class in a seven-week parachute rigger course at Fort Benning, Ga.

The Marine sergeant dropped a point out of a possible score of 100, but ended with a record mark of 99 to top a class of two Turkish Army lieutenants, 13 Marines and 16 U.S. Army enlisted men. Vargosko's accomplishment earned him a letter of commendation from the commanding officer of Airborne Department, Infantry School.

The other 12 Air Delivery Leathernecks helped keep the traditional Marine "best" practice intact by finishing in the top quarter. The Corps' outstanding record also was aided by the second best score of 98.5 attained by Army Sgt. G. Hartman, who served four years as a Marine during World War II.

Another group from the Air Delivery platoon departed last week for Fort Benning where they will learn techniques of parachute-dropping anything from a crate of fresh eggs to jeeps when supplying troops by land becomes impossible.

The Second Air Delivery Platoon is a comparatively new Marine organization. It is the link between support units of the Fleet Marine Force and groups operating in the field for delivery of equipment and supplies by precision methods.

Six of the platoon's members—including CWO F. O. Riddle, the commanding officer — are former Paratroopers. Two in the unit are ex-Army paratroopers.

Free Insurance Problems Aired: Here Are A Few Of The Answers

The following questions and answers are considered of value to men and women in uniform, puzzled by the effects of the new legislation passed by Congress and signed by the president.

Q. Broadly speaking, what does the bill mean?

A. It provides a free $10,000 indemnity to beneficiaries of service members who die while on active duty or within 120 days after separation. If a service member dies during that time, his beneficiary (who must be in his immediate family) receives $92.90 a month for 10 years.

Q. When did it take effect?

A. June 27, 1950. It pays $10,000 indemnities to beneficiaries of service members who have died since 27 June 1950, and who didn't already have the regular National Service Life Insurance.

Q. What about the present "G.I. Insurance?"

A. The present form of National Service Life Insurance and United States Government Life Insurance (the World War I plan) will not be issued any more. Present NSLI and USGLI policies are "participating"—that means pay dividends. Participating insurance won't be issued any longer.

Q. What if you have National Service Life Insurance now? Does anything happen to it?

A. No. It will remain in effect as it is, if you want to keep it.

Q. Why should I keep it if I'm on active duty now and can get $10,000 indemnity free.

A. No. It will remain in effect as it is, if you want to keep it.

Q. Why should I keep it if I'm on active duty now and can get $10,000 indemnity free.

A. No. It will remain in effect as it is, if you want to keep it.

Q. Why should I keep it if I'm on active duty now and can get $10,000 indemnity free.

A. No. It will remain in effect as it is, if you want to keep it.

Q. Why should I keep it if I'm on active duty now and can get $10,000 indemnity free.

A. No. It will remain in effect as it is, if you want to keep it.

Q. Why should I keep it if I'm on active duty now and can get $10,000 indemnity free.

A. No. It will remain in effect as it is, if you want to keep it.

A. That's a problem you'll have to decide. But here's the point: Suppose you presently have a $10,000 indemnity National Service Life Insurance "term" policy (that's the cheapest and most popular form) and suppose you are paying $7 a month on it. You'll be able to get a waiver on your premiums—in other words, you won't have to pay anything while you're in the service, but you'll still have the policy. Then, when you leave the service, you can keep that policy and start making monthly payments again. Or, you can convert it to one of the permanent plans—ordinary life, 20-year endowment, etc.

Q. I have a $10,000 20-year endowment NSLI policy now. Can I get $10,000 free indemnity as well?

A. No. The limit is $10,000. If you had a $5,000 policy now, you'd automatically get $5,000 free indemnity, however.

CAN YOU READ?

Can you read, Mac? Sure you can. What a stupid question to ask. Yet it is true that many people in the world cannot read. What a vast area of information and entertainment is cut off by this handicap. Literally millions of people would give a great deal to be able to read. They are eager for any small opportunity to learn. Yet here in our own country, where facilities are available for all, many people cannot read.

But you say you can read. So what's this to you? Another question arises: What kind of material do you read? With such an abundance of good material surely a person can find reading material that he will enjoy and from which he can derive benefit. Yet some men never have progressed beyond the kindergarten level. Their minds are filled with ideas and their character is built upon materials which are unworthy of their capabilities. What a tragedy to see a possible college man waste his time reading trash!

Good material is available. See what your library offers. Select books that challenge your intellect. See your Chaplain. Religious material is available free in every branch of religious faith. Use your Bible, your Testament, your Prayer Book, whatever you have to bring your mind and heart into closer contact with your God.

Can you Read? Of course! Well why not use this ability to make yourself a better man?

On the same day, Mrs. F. J. McQuillen had given a small luncheon for Mrs. Hansen.

From all reports, every eligible Lejeune father and son is looking forward to the annual P.T.A. sponsored picnic on Friday, and we join them in hoping for good weather.

The officers and their wives of the Tenth Marines will meet for cocktails in the River Room on Friday at a reception for their new commanding officer, Col. Jack Taber.

A graduate of UCLA, Los Angeles, Calif., Captain Good formerly served at Camp Lejeune with C Battery of the Tenth Marines.

He was listed as missing when his First Marine Division plane was declared overdue while on a sortie over enemy lines.

Admiral Good served as commander of the Atlantic Fleet Service Force in 1949-50 and was reassigned to his present post last October.

The luncheon featured a 60-pound, three-layer cake, surrounded with a dozen pieces of matching luggage and other gifts from the men in the battalion. The cake, designed by Mess Sgt. F. L. Albritton and staff, was topped with a miniature tank, replica of the battalion's vehicles.

Three Weeks Left For Contestants To Design Marine Ring

Entries in the $500 contest to design a ring for Marines were rolling in to special service officers today with three weeks left in the contest period.

Written ideas or drawings will be accepted by unit special services officers through May 31.

The best design idea will win $300. Second place will draw $100 and the next two entries will win $50 each.

The purpose of the contest is to find out from Marines what kind of Marine ring they want to wear. A copy of the winning design—or a combination of several winning designs—will be manufactured and placed on sale in exchanges here.

Checks will be presented to the winners next month and it is anticipated that the Marine-designed ring will be on sale by mid-July.

Ex-Marine Cited For Korean War Photos

NEW YORK, May 3 — David Douglas Duncan, Marine Corps combat photographer in World War II, has been cited by the Overseas Press Club of America for "best picture reporting from abroad in 1950." Duncan filmed the Marines' withdrawal from the Chosin Reservoir and evacuation from Hungnam in Korea for Life Magazine.

"This is War," Duncan's photographic narrative of the Korean conflict will be published next month. The text will have 150 pages of pictures and 20,000 words and will sell for approximately $5.

Duncan served with the First Marine Division in World War II and was in Japan for Life when the fighting in Korea began. He is credited with being the first man ever to take pictures from the nose of a jet airplane in flight.

Monday night in the Goettge Memorial Field House, our boxing team, Atlantic Fleet and Sixth Naval District champion, gets its toughest test of the season.

Coach-Joe Karlage's titlists, unbeaten in team competition this year, will face the National AAU championship squad from Philadelphia in an eight-bout program for benefit of the Navy Relief Society.

The first fistie feature is scheduled to start at 8 p.m.; just two hours after doors open. There will be no advance ticket sale and no seats will be reserved. Admission will be 50 cents per person.

The Philadelphians are quite outstanding, for in winning the National AAU team diadem they had to outscore units from all 48 states, Alaska, Hawaii, Puerto Rico and South America.

William Peacock, 112 pounds; James Hackney, 135, and Thomas Nelson, 160, are Philadelphians who gained individual National titles. Peacock beat our Hank Montanez on a split decision in the second round of the AAU tourney at Boston and the pair again will be opponents Monday. Nelson is not on Monday's card.

The program: FLYWEIGHT—William Peacock (P) vs. Hank Montanez (Montanez is Charlotte Golden Gloves and Sixth Naval District champ).

BANTAMWEIGHT—Henry Brown (P) vs. Dorsey Fears (Brown is Middle Atlantic, Golden Gloves and Diamond Belt champion. Fears won the All-Navy title in 1949 and an Atlantic Fleet crown two weeks ago).

FEATHERWEIGHT—Cortez Jackson (P) vs. Mario Pinelli (Jackson is an MAAAU, Golden Gloves and Diamond Belt titlist. He was a member of the Pan-American team last year. Pinelli won Golden Gloves titles at Charleston and Wilmington, was an All-Navy runner-up and won a Sixth Naval District crown).

LIGHTWEIGHT—Bill Hackney (P) vs. Don Logan (Hackney is a Diamond Belt and National AAU champion. Logan won a championship in the European Theater during World War II).

WELTERWEIGHT—Jimmy Fisher (P) vs. Eppie Alonzo (Fisher is a Police Athletic League and Golden Gloves champ, but our Alonzo is a two-time New York City Golden Gloves and PAL king and just won an Atlantic Fleet championship and the Sixth Naval District crown and "Outstanding Fighter" laurels).

MIDDLEWEIGHT—Robert Slaughter (P) vs. Al Hood (Slaughter is a Diamond Belt Champion, Hood an Atlantic Fleet and Sixth Naval District champ).

LIGHT-HEAVYWEIGHT—Luther Chambers (P) vs. Willie McClendon (Chambers is a MAAAU titlist, McClendon took the Sixth Naval District and South-Central diadems in 1949).

HEAVYWEIGHT—Alex Brown (P) vs. Joe Sanchez (Brown is a MAAAU champ. Sanchez took titles in the Charlotte and Charleston Golden Gloves tourneys and won a Sixth Naval District championship).

The North Carolina State-Lejeune football game mentioned last week has been canceled. However, there will be an intra-squad scrimmage by the Lejeune "spring varsity" here Saturday at 2 p.m.

Wally Williams will coach the "Square Meal and a dollar" team against Charlie Milners "I Wanta Go Home" squad. The scarlet-garbed Williams outfit consists of those who figure to be at Lejeune in the fall. Need we say what the other team consists of? Oh, they'll be wearing gold uniforms.

Here's one from the United Press and don't laugh just because of the victim's name:

Thirteen-year-old Tommy Freeman, playing the outfield in Roxbury, Mass., started after a long fly. He tripped and rammed his head between the pickets of the outfield fence.

While Tommy's head was stuck, the batter circled the bases and then joined in a rush to help him. The boys twisted and turned Tommy's head, but couldn't get it free. They called police, who finally worked Tommy loose and took him to a hospital.

Tommy was released after treatment for bruises. The ump said, "It's a homer if the ball goes over the fence, so I guess it's a homer if the outfielder goes through the fence."

Penner Yields One Hit, Beats Bayonne, 11-2

BAYONNE, N. J., May 4 — Bob Penner's one-hit pitching led Camp Lejeune's baseball team to an 11-2 triumph over Bayonne Junior College here yesterday—the Marines' second successive one-hit victory following a no hit triumph by their Bob Nankerville over Bolling Air Force Base.

In Lejeune's past three successes, Nankerville's no-hitter, Jack Ingalls' one-hitter against Bolling and Penner's one-hitter—the Leathernecks have allowed only two runs and scored 20.

Penner's fifth victory in as many starts was his team's 20th in 24 games. He allowed only a final-inning double, struck out 11 and walked five in the seven-inning tussle.

Two sixth-inning walks and an error led to Bayonne's scores. Laurits Anderson, Lejeune catcher, attempting to pick a runner off second, tossed into centerfield and both men tallied.

Lejeune had nine hits and equalled Bayonne's error-making with three.

Boxers Win 6 Titles Keep District Crown

GREEN COVE SPRINGS, Fla., May 5 — Camp Lejeune's boxing team, Atlantic Fleet Champion, amassed 34 of a possible 40 points here last night to successfully defend its Sixth Naval District crown. The Marines took six of eight class titles and produced the "outstanding fighter in the tourney," welterweight champion Eppie Alonzo.

Host Green Cove Springs Naval Station compiled 21 points, followed by Cherry Point (8), Pensacola Naval Air Station (3) and Jacksonville Naval Air Station (2).

Lejeune boxers Hank Montanez, 112 pounds; Dick Williams, 118; Mario Pinelli, 126; Al Hood, 160, and Joe Sanchez, heavyweight, won titles along with Alonzo. Al Fagan, Lejeune lightweight, was outpointed by Oscar Albaugh, GCS, in the finals, while Don Spencer, Cherry Point, defeated Jim Bond, Lejeune's light-heavy in the first round in a bout highlighted by the opponents' aggressiveness.

Swift Alonzo, former two-time

Golden Gloves champion York city, gained the diadem, a decision over defending champion Bernard Brannum, Penner in the opening round and a triumph over Cherry Point's Osceola in the finals.

Montanez scored the only point in the competition when he outpointed Tom Brown, GCS, in the second round in the title bout that was Montanez' only victory.

Williams didn't have to hold his crown as no opponents were available. Pinelli TKO'd sonville's Flash Algar in the finals and decided John R. GCS, in the finals. Hood outpointed Mike Zecca, Cherry Point, and Tohe Hurt, GCS, for his championship. Sanchez won by decision William Arwood, Jacksonville, Pensacola's Carl Steele.

At Camp Lejeune May 1 champions will be host to the national AAU title-winning team from Philadelphia in an eight-bout card for benefit of Navy Relief Society.

All Mitchell's runs were unearned as Lejeune committed five errors, one more than the losers. Ingalls walked four, hit a batter and struck out 11. Tractor-Drawn Mowers Dangerous to Children

Several recent "near accidents" ought forth a warning to parents away from Camp Maintenance to keep children away from the tractor-drawn grass mowers in the Paradise Point area.

Capt. H. G. Bozarth said no children had been hurt yet, but several had come within inches of serious injury.

The captain explained that children like to troop along behind the mowers. Drivers of the tractors, intent on guiding around trees and shrubs, are unable to watch the children closely and several have merely avoided injury. The mowers are capable of severing fingers and hands, the captain said.

Captain Bozarth urged parents to keep their children strictly away from mowers.

Accident Curb Planned By Highway Patrols

JACKSONVILLE — Highway patrolmen stationed in Onslow County have promised a "strict crackdown" on traffic violators in an attempt to end accidents that already have taken a toll of six lives this year.

Cpl. John Evans has instructed his fellow patrolmen to be particularly on the alert for reckless, drunken and speeding drivers.

Field Medical Service School Undergoes Command Change

By LEO HAMEL

The doctor who put the "Operation" in "Operation Bandaid" turned over command of the Field Medical Service School Friday to the former Division Surgeon of the First Marine Division.

Cmdr. Fred W. Armington, MC, USN, who has directed the school since it reopened last October, and under whose guidance the "Bandaid" exercises were formulated, was relieved by Capt. Eugene R. Hering, former boss of the First Marine Division's medics in Korea.

The change of command ceremonies were combined with graduation exercises for 320 officers and men, members of the Sixth class to undergo training since the school reopened.

The "Bandaid" operations were conceived by Commander Armington as a result of his combat experience at Guadalcanal and later service with the Amphibious Training Command, Atlantic.

He realized that Corpsmen with combat Marines needed experience in the complicated art of ship-to-shore operations before they went into combat. "Operation Bandaid" was the answer, and since the first "OB" was held at Onslow Beach last October, every graduate of the Field Medical Service School has "hit the beach" as part of his training.

Commander Armington told the graduates, "We've tried to train you in field work, tried to give you an idea of the problems that you'll face in amphibious landings. How well you've learned soon will be evident. Remember, all Marines ask when they're wounded is a fighting chance. YOU will give them that fighting chance."

The Commander, who came here from the Naval Hospital at Portsmouth, Va., will join the staff of the Commander, Amphibious Forces, Pacific.

Said Captain Hering, as he accepted command of the school, "I can't tell you how to get along in Korea. I can only say that your training here may well be the most valuable of your service career."

The Captain was returned to the United States two months ago after serving with the First Provisional Marine Brigade and as Division Surgeon of the First Marine Division.

A veteran of 20 years' Navy service, Captain Hering has been attached to the Fleet Marine Force for 12 of those years. In WWII, he went in with the Marines in the Aleutians, at Makin and at Tarawa. He was Division Surgeon of the Second Marine Division at Saipan and Tinian and later was liaison officer between the 10th Army and Third Amphibious Corps at Okinawa.

Mr. Edwards served with the Army in the Southwest Pacific theater during World War II. He was seriously wounded and was awarded the Distinguished Service Cross for extraordinary heroism in action at Buna, New Guinea. After the war, he returned to Durham, where he was a practicing attorney in the firm of Edwards and Sanders. He was twice elected to the North Carolina legislature, in 1947 and 1949, and became Mayor of Durham in 1949.

Leatherneck And Gazette Publish Books

Both the Leatherneck Magazine and the Marine Corps Gazette brought out extra publications in the form of 96-page booklets this week.

The Leatherneck's opus, titled "Gyrene Gyngles and Cartoons," is a collection of poems and cartoons previously published in the magazine. Included are some of the early antics of "Gizmo and Eightball," by Rhoads, and Fred Lasswell's "Hashmark." Fred is now gainfully employed by King Features, drawing Snuffy Smith for the syndicate. Gyrene Gyngles sells for 50 cents, at your Post Exchange.

The Gazette's offering is labeled "Leatherhead." It depicts the impressions artist Sgt. N. E. Packwood, Jr., got at Parris Island's boot camp. His hero, Leatherhead, "represents the combined bewilderment and confusion of every Marine who had undergone recruit training."

Leatherhead can be had for one dollar, at the Post Exchange, or by mailing the buck to the Gazette Bookshop, Box 106, MCS, Quantico, Va. It may also be had free with each two-year subscription to The Gazette.
